

Mooresville Friends Church, northwest corner of W. Main &
N. Monroe Streets, just east of White Lick Creek
(1919 Photo by Manley Brown)

Quakers around Mooresville first began holding worship meetings in 1821. They built the first brick church in Morgan County in 1827 west of White Lick Creek, near McCracken Creek (where White Lick Cemetery is located). In 1870, William Macy began constructing a new structure on land obtained in 1864 (on the northwest corner of West Main & North Monroe Streets on the west side of town), where the Friends Church still stands today.

Published by Mooresville Public Library
220 West Harrison Street
Mooresville, IN 46158
mooresvillelib.org

Flash From Your Past Card Historical Flash Card Series — Card #33

Mooresville Friends Church, northwest corner of
W. Main & N. Monroe Streets
(circa 1910 photo by J. P. Calvert)