

Library Search Party ... where is that book?

It can be a jungle inside the library if you don't know where you're going. Choose a partner and begin the search of your life! Carefully maneuver around the library, answering the questions below and learning about the way our library is organized. Beware of bookworms!

1. Write down the titles of two books written by Beverly Cleary.
2. Write down the title, author and call number of a book on the planets.
3. Locate the book: "The Polar Express" (but don't take it off the shelf). Write down the author of this book and explain where you found it.
4. Find an art book. Write down the title, author and call number of this book.
5. What do we call the section of the library where you would find the encyclopedias and the dictionaries? _____. Also, write down the title of two other books you found in this section:
6. Find a book that talks about the true-life story of an important person. Write down the title, author and location of this book.
9. What is the name for the section of the library where we find books on famous people? _____. How are these books organized? _____.
10. Find a book on a country you would like to visit one day. Write down the name of the country, author, title and call number of the book

11. Choose a non-fiction section of the library to browse through (either 100s, 200s, 300s, 400s, 500s, 600s, 700s, 800s, 900s). List five types (not titles) of books that are located in this section.

BONUS: Browse through our paperback books and choose one that looks interesting. Read the back cover and write 2-3 sentences about why you might want to read this book. You can answer on back.
