Forward

Throughout our busy lives, we travel many and various paths. Many times, there are 'crossroads' where we must choose which path to take. Oftentimes, there is a great temptation to take the easiest path, or the one from which we can gain the most material wealth or social acclaim. The ability to choose the right path is a sign of maturity.

Here at school, our studies take us down the path of education. In the process of learning our literature, government, home economics, agriculture, and other studies, we also learn about the people around us. We learn how to co-operate with others. We discover that others are also faced with the difficulties of deciding on a path to follow. The inscription above the arch is aptly written "Enter To Grow In Wisdom," for no one enters who doesn't gain some form of knowledge.

Through Classrooms of

This is the seventh grade's Home Economics class. They are learning how to sew, how to cook and how to take care of their own homes, which they will have some day.

These eighth graders are learning the fundamentals of carpentry here in the shop room in the basement of the high school building. They start out by learning how to make book ends and later advance to making cedar chests.

These boys in Agriculture class are learning about farming and animal husbandry. The hardest workers seem to be Seniors, Jim Deloach and Jerry Cooper.

Study ...

These students in Mr. Smallwood's class learn all the postulates, theorems, figures, and angles of Geometry.

Are you sure that's right, Charles?

Miss Joan Ericson, our student teacher is explaining different forms of life such as protozoa and amoeba to the Freshman Biology Class.

Is it always this interesting?

Rose Mary seems to enjoy her work!

These Seniors in Mr. East's first period government class are working hard in preparation for that big test.

and Various Fields . . .

Taking dictation and transcription is one of the main points stressed in Mrs. Cowen's shorthand classes, so that the girls will be able to face the business world.

Sentence structure and pronouns are being discussed by Mrs. Roberts' Sophomore English class. Ray doesn't seem very interested.

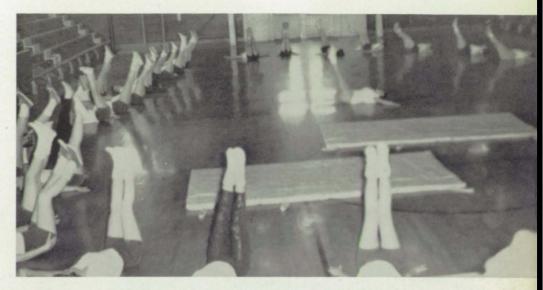

Mr. Sparks' Health class seems to be in a very dreamy mood today. Say, Buddy, why don't you wake up and look alert, this is supposed to be very educational.

Mary Ellen Wilkerson is looking heavenward for an answer to an important question in second period study hall. Others don't seem quite so studious, Nancy.

of Interest . . .

These Sophomore girls are learning poise and balance through exercises such as these. They are also learning to follow a leader.

Hey, girls, all of those legs aren't straight!!

On Achievement Night, these Seventh Graders demonstrated what they had learned this year in gym class.

Is it that funny, girls?

Hey, Mary Ellen, why didn't you stop that ball?

This Eighth Grade gym class is engaged in an exciting game of scoot soccer. Several of the classes also played this game on their noon hour.

The Freshmen Endure Initiation

Judy and Sandra sing for the Seniors.

Freshmen kneel as Seniors enter.

Everybody dances at the party.

October 2 was the (fatal) day for the Freshmen. The girls were requested to come to school dressed in gunny sacks and armed with baby bottles, pacifiers, and dolls. The boys had to wear a sheet made to resemble a Roman toga.

The Seniors, dressed in their white shirts and blue jeans, pestered them all morning by having them say their speech or suffer the consequences.

The highlight of the day was the program in the afternoon with Bill Swinney as Master of Ceremonies. Here both the freshmen and the new teachers performed.

That night the Seniors relented and gave a nice party for the Freshmen and all the teachers. There was dancing and refreshments of cider and doughnuts.

From Sock-Hops to

The Seniors sponsored sock-hops in the gym after home football and basketball games. The kids all seem to be enjoying themselves here.

This year, the annual Fall Festival was postponed, and then changed into a Winter Carnival. Half of the gym was used for dancing. Sue Western seems very proud of her G.A.A. sweater.

In addition to the sock-hops, clubs also sponsor special dances. Here a large group dances at the Saint Patrick's Day Dance, sponsored by the G.A.A.

At our Homecoming Dance, Bill Baker was the D. J. As always, large numbers of our alumni returned to see Alyce Rose crowned the Homecoming Queen.

"Orchids in the Moonlight"

Queen Marcia Enlow and King Wendell Boyd pose for a royal photograph after being crowned at the Prom. They were chosen by the Junior Class and were crowned by Bud Swisher and Rita Russell, respectively.

The Shop Department's Display.

ACHIEVEMENT NIGHT

Here the shop department is having their accomplishments in woodworking of coffee tables, lamps, gun racks, end tables, etc., admired. In the background you see the art exhibit displayed by the grade children.

The Maypole Dance,

The Maypole Dance is presented each year by the Sophomore girls.

Each girl is wearing a pastel colored skirt, matching her ribbon. They braid the ribbons by weaving in and out to the song of "Country Gardens."

A nice bulletin-board display.

The Home Economics Department displays their talent in sewing, cooking, and decorating.

and Royalty.

The queen presiding over the May Day events was Miss Sandra Steiber, chosen by her classmates. She wore a blue taffeta dress covered with lace of the same color. A junior class member, Richard Griggs, first adorned her head with a white crown, trimmed with blue glitter, and then he presented her with a bouquet of a dozen, long-stemmed, American Beauty Roses, which were tied with a large pink ribbon.

Take Finals, and Finally . . .

A group of silent, solemn, superior Seniors.

On Sunday, May 18, at 3:00 p.m., fifty-one Seniors attended the Baccalaureate services held at the First Christian Church in Mooresville. The invocation, given by Rev. Rex James, was followed by "Without a Song," sung by Howard Pritchard. The sermon was given by Rev. Clifford Carmichael. The singing of the "Lord's Prayer" by Howard Pritchard preceded the benediction by Rev. Charles Miller. The organist was Miss Gwen Ferguson.

Following the services, the A.A.U.W. gave a tea in honor of the graduating class. It was held in the dining room of the Christian Church.

Graduation Day!!!

The Processional into the gym for the Commencement exercises, held Thursday, May 22, 1958, was hastened by a thunderstorm. In the absence of Rev. John Suttenfield, the Invocation was given by Rev. Harold Welty, followed by the Salutatory by Shirley Smitherman. Mrs. Norma Anderson sang "You'll Never Walk Alone," preceding the address by Dr. Robert H.. Farber. Principal William R. Curry then gave the awards and scholarships. The Valedictory was given by Larry Hornaday on Patriotism. The presentation of diplomas by Superintendent Warren A. Hert preceded the singing of the "Alma Mater" by the Senior Class of 1958. Rev. Welty closed with the Benediction. The organist was Miss Gwen Ferguson.

Our twelve years of schooling are over at last. Some of us are going on to college, some are getting married, some are going to the military services, and some are undecided. Leading the Recessional are the Vice-President and President of the Junior Class, followed by the class President, the valedictorian and salutatorian, and the remainder of the Senior Class of 1958.

There is a saying that "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy." At Mooresville High, there are many extracurricular activities for the students to join. In addition to sports, there are other organizations, many of which deal specifically with a certain field of study.

Many of the meetings are held at night, but when the need arises for an immediate meeting, it is often held in the library. These activities are to promote knowledge and interest and at the same time provide a chance for the students to get together and enjoy themselves.

The Cheer Block was organized to promote the spirit of basketball games. The students participating were those interested in basketball and who wanted to back the Pioneers. The eighty-four members, dressed in white shirts, formed a block.

The Mooresville Band has had quite an active year. We were invited to dedicate the new Martinsville Power Plant last summer and had the opportunity of seeing the Governor and other important state officials: We paraded at Spencer, Elletts-ville, Zionsville and at the State Fair. We played for the Sidewalk Festival and for Old Settlers.

We gave a fall and spring concert. We played for all home basketball games and produced a show for all home football games.

New equipment purchased this year was a French Horn and a pair of Cymbals. Thanks to the Music Parent Club.

How to sidestep an unwelcome marriage planned for them by an autocratic father, is the particular headache that upsets the Crabbe twins. One of the twins must marry Terence Flarity, son of the father's old war buddy, or be disinherited.

Terence appears upon the scene, with his friend Jack, and proposes to both twins, who incidentally already have boy friends, namely, Morty and Reggie VanTwiller.

Between-acts entertainment was furnished by Mary K. Deibel and Jack Perry.

The Latin Club meets for the purpose of increasing their knowledge of the history of Italy, the social life, government and general routine of the Romans.

Among the features of the year were films and a dance. The club is composed of both first and second-year Latin students. The Latin Club is sponsored by Mrs. L. Richardson.

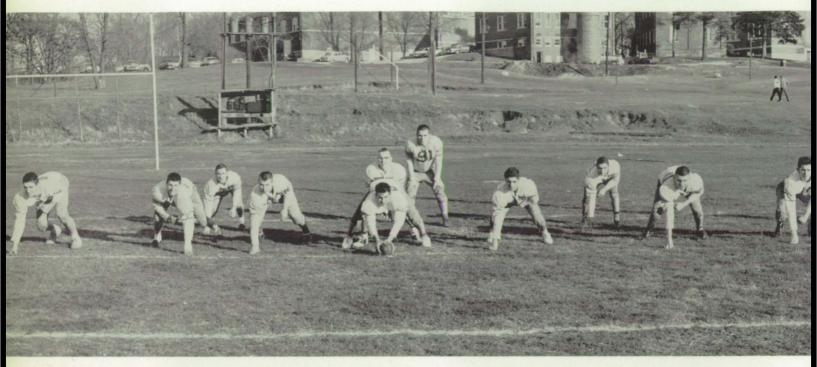

The pathway of Sports has always been a little uncertain for Mooresville High. We have always had the good fortune to have one or two extraordinary players in any sport. This year, our sports record has been good. As usual, we have been a serious threat to most of our opponents.

In spite of the fact that they have many hours of practice, most of our M.H.S. athletes are on the Honor Roll every time and many are in the National Honor Society. We can be proud of our Sports path!

THE PIONEERS PLAY AT HOME

The Pioneer season was opened on August 31 when Center Grove journeyed to Memorial Field. The Pioneers piled up an early 13 point lead in the first half and held Center Grove scoreless to stage a 13-0 victory. The Pioneers then played host to Decatur Central. The Hawks demonstrated a well-balanced ball club as they handily racked up 42 points to the Pioneers' 6. The Pioneer stalwarts then entertained University on the home field. The Mooresville Eleven displayed an excellent passing attack but bowed to a determined University Eleven, 34-20. On October 4 Brownsburg invaded Pioneer territory with their star halfback who piled up 37 points to lead the Brownsburg drive. Mooresville scored early in the first quarter but the final score was 54-6 in favor of the Bulldogs. On October 11, the football squad played host to Plainfield on the Pioneer gridiron. The Quakers displayed a well-balanced squad that night as they raced to a 24-0 victory. On October 22 the Pioneers played Franklin Township on our home field. The Pioneers lost 50-0 but played valiantly in spite of the fact that only 15 players dressed for the game, the others being sick with the Asiatic flu. The Pioneers showed much courage in playing a team that displayed a large squad of experienced players. In the Blue and Gold's first game away from home, they battled the Danville Warriors. Danville showed an excellent team, running very well, as they defeated Mooresville 41-0. Greenwood then played host to the Pioneers and came back from a 7 point halftime deficit to defeat the Pioneers 25-13. The Mooresville Pioneers brought their 1957 season to a close with a journey to Edinburg. Two extra points missed proved to be Mooresville's downfall as the Lancers scampered off to a 13-12 victory.

to Exciting Games

This was Homecoming! A successful float parade in spite of the afternoon's rain and a very exciting football game and half-time activity that night. Each class and organization was represented in the parade by colorful floats. The Sophomore float with the theme "Swing to Victory" won first prize. There were six lovely queen candidates making a trip around the field in convertibles. The highlight of the evening was the dance held in the gymnasium, with Bill Baker as disc jockey. Alyce Rose was crowned football queen by co-captain Wendell Boyd and presented a bouquet of glads by co-captain Bill Swinney.

Pole Vaulter, Jerry Fishel, goes up and over.

When a student has a problem, his path leads him to a helpful teacher who may be either a sponsor or just a friend of the student's. If the teacher is unable to supply the necessary solution, he, in turn, presents the problem to fellow teachers, usually at noon around the lunch table.

Our teachers go out of their way to help students understand the subject material. We are deeply grateful to them for this.

The Senior class officers, in an effort to coordinate the Seniors' activities, are often seen in conferences. They have planned the bake sales, sock hops, and have done much toward the planning of the Senior trip to Chicago.

While some may think that the cries of "Be sure and pay your dues to Shirley," "Do you have that, Beverly?", "Go see Karen or Alyce about that," or "What did you do with it, Larry?" will disappear with this year's Senior class, we know that it will be the same next year, and only the names will be changed. This is a path that continues forever.

The day the Freshman enters High School, he views the path to his Senior year as the longest he has ever faced. Then he becomes a Sophomore, it seems as if time were standing still. His Junior year, as a complete reversal, whirls by with a flurry of class meetings, concession stands, and finally the Prom for the Seniors.

It is while the student is an underclassman that he gains most of his knowledge. While the Seniors are busy and having many meetings, the underclassmen are studying. They do not have as many meetings, but they learn the essentials necessary for living in the modern world.

Minnie Willoughby Susie Winder Norma Worthington Some of us can fondly recall our beginning years of school. These were the years when we started on our path toward our goal. If we did not know then what our goal was, we discovered many different things which would be interesting to investigate.

Now, as we look back on those years, we remember the things that influenced us, - - our teachers, certain classes, a certain person in an older grade, something someone said. All of these had their place in the path of our school life.

North Madison Township School

Above is an example of some of the effort which the Mooresville Consolidated School Corporation is making to solve the problem of classroom shortage. This picture shows the new North Madison Elementary School which is located in the northeast corner of Madison Township. This school houses 227 pupils from grades one to six. It contains six large classrooms, one large multi-purpose and cafeteria room, rest rooms, office, three storage rooms, furnace room, kitchen, teachers' lounge, and nurse clinic. This school was built at a net cost of $11.94 per square foot or at a net cost of 85¢ per cubic foot. It has an area of 13,575 square feet. It has fluorescent and incandescent light fixtures; all wiring in conduit, and an I.B. M. master clock system with reserve spring motor. This building was occupied on February 3, 1958.

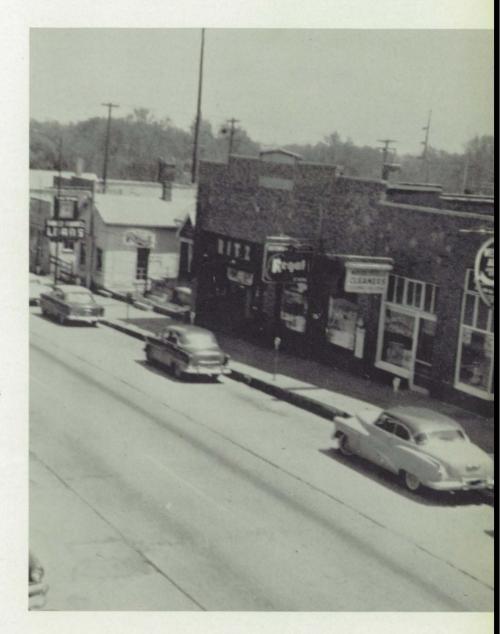

This is a picture of the sixth grade at North Madison grade school having a study period. Mr. Stringer is the teacher.

Miss Spencer and Mrs. Smallwood are lining the pupils up to go back to class.

Every path has a destination which its travelers wish to reach. Sometimes, in order to reach this destination, a person must have aid from interested friends. It is to these friends we now give our heartfelt thanks.

Without them, this book would not have been possible.
