MOORESVILLE HIGH SCHOOL
MOORESVILLE, INDIANA
VOLUME 15

FOREWORD

Dimensions of Mooresville are changing. Our town has doubled its size in the last four years. The city's map has changed from a small rectangle to an irregular shaped mass. Growing with our town and its changing dimensions is our school.

The fifty-two year old former high school building now houses 400 junior high students. Where only corn was growing last year, a new structure (primarily glass and steel) now reaches toward the sky. There is strength and beauty in the lines and angles of this building. Each individual student who passes through it contributes part of himself to the overall picture. A complete summary of the lives and activities of the 450 members of the student body, faculty, and staff is reported within these pages.

The theme of this book is New Dimensions . . . new dimensions of our school helping to further the progress of education to all its people.

We are proud of our school's achievements in scholarship, and in other areas of living—in other words, in the production of good citizens. We may pause only briefly to dwell upon our year as we lived it here, but it was a wonderful year of—NEW DIMENSIONS.

WITH FALL COMES A BEGINNING — AND INTRODUCTION TO OUR NEW SCHOOL

Seniors Nancie Hert and Mary Ann Singer bought books opening day of school.

Mr. East, guidance director, points out to Susie Hendrickson that planning is an important part of any career.

Here it was—the new Mooresville High, a modern, spacious, sprawling, brick building. The faint odor of fresh paint and the shiny newness of the entire school held a special and different meaning for the 404 students that first day of school, September 4, 1959.

We were awed by the quietness and newness . . . this was the dream we had looked forward to. Yet, comparisons were made with the old, full of tradition, ivy covered buildings we had left and we grew homesick. Could this coolly, impersonal structure be brought to life and begin to seem like home?

1959-1960 . . . one short year, but what a change was brought to MHS. The empty silent halls now echoed the laughter of the students; the classrooms evidenced each teacher's personality; we grew accustomed to the sound of the buzzer and the fire bell. New traditions were being made for our school.

PARENTS AND STUDENTS ATTEND IMPRESSIVE DEDICATION CEREMONY

Principal William R. Curry gives the welcome address at the dedication program. Seated on the portable stage in the gymnasium are: School Board members, School Building Corporation members, local ministers, dedication speaker, Dr. Robert Farber of DePauw University, and student body president, Mike Davidson.

Superintendent Warren A. Hert introduces platform guests.

The new Mooresville Consolidated High School, costing a total of $703,110.20, was dedicated November 29, 1959. Its true worth, however, is not in its structural soundness but in the purposes for which it will be used. Mr. Warren A. Hert, Superintendent of Schools, expressed his feelings in this way: "May this building, and the facilities it provides, be a challenge to each and every student to use it wisely and appreciatively, and, in so doing, to realize the full meaning of the inscription 'ENTER TO LEARN—DEPART TO SERVE'."

Principal William Curry and Superintendent Warren A. Hert stand at the bronze plaque in the front hall with Sumner Sellars, President of the School Board, Al Ford, Architect, and Ralph Storm, President of the School Building Corporation.

WORK, FUN, AND EXCITEMENT ARE CROWDED INTO EACH DAY

Where hours are concerned, each day remains nearly the same. At 8:15 every day school commences and at 3:21 dismisses. In between the hours are filled with four, five, or six classes; activity period (a first for our school); and our noon hour. We grow accustomed to this pattern and it becomes a part of us. Yet this scheduled life we lead has something new each day and is eagerly looked forward to.

A familiar sight each day is the lunch line.

Bill Garrison and Sharon Hamblen take advantage of our telephone after school.

The candy store, sponsored by the Music Club, is a busy place at noon hour and after school.

Our first school-owned buses line up on the blacktop to take the rural students home.

ASSEMBLIES PROVIDED BREAK IN ROUTINE

The dexterity of the human body was well-demonstrated through the art of weight lifting and using the trampoline by Donna and Otto Schmidts during our first assembly of the year.

Mr. Lou Gaeta, who trains birds and other animals for radio and television, presented a program depicting the work of a falconer.

"You can do anything you want to do," were the words of Mr. Ray Monsalvatge, a very dynamic speaker who talked to us about making the most of our lives.

FAIR WEATHER FAVORS HOMECOMING FESTIVITIES

Floats, convertibles, and queen candidates highlighted the MHS homecoming, September 18, 1959. Both the grid action of the evening and the parade in the afternoon were favored by sunshine and warm temperature for the first time in nearly five years. The colorful parade formed on the athletic field and proceeded through the downtown district joined by the ten newly purchased school buses.

Queen Mary Lou Collett reigned over the dance. Her attendants were: Sue Head, Sharon Keltner, Carroll Selke, Jackie Swope, Carol Anders, Jaynie Boyd, and Jill Casey.

The event-packed day, which climaxed two weeks preparation by the students, will long be remembered. The alumni who returned recalled many happy memories of "the best years of their lives."

Queen Mary Lou, attendants, and escorts opened the homecoming dance to the music of Rooker and the Rockers—everyone joined in on the second dance.

Planning on a victory over the Univees of Bloomington the juniors won first place with their float "Squeezin' Out A Victory."

Freshman, Mary Lou Collett was chosen queen by the student body.

An unusual float entered by the eighth grade captured second place honors.

"DREAMLAND" DANCE FIRST FORMAL AFFAIR

"Meet Me Tonight in Dreamland" was the theme of the yearbook dance—the first semi-formal affair of the year. Johnny Goodfellow of WIRE was the disc jockey.

Senior members were nominated queen and king candidates. The freshman class chose Paula Swisher and Jerry Thompson; the sophomores selected Caroll Selke and Mike Davidson; the juniors named Deanie Boyd and Joe Curtsinger; and the seniors elected Karen Shepherd and Richard Short. Chosen as the royal pair by popular vote of the entire student body were Karen and Richard.

Queen Karen and King Richard, senior candidates, reign over the Yearbook Dance, March 18, 1960.

The queen and king and their royal court await the royal coronation dance.

YEAR'S WORK REVIEWED AT OPEN HOUSE

The May Day Program had its annual setting at Mooresville High on May 6, 1960. This year's queen was Nancie Hert. Each year the reigning queen presides over the entire program.

Her court consisted of two attendants from each class. The senior attendants were Deanie Boyd and Carroll Selke; junior, Sandra Califar and Liane Hawkins; sophomore, Sandra Neimier and Jerri Hite; and freshmen, Edna Mae Richardson and Melinda Warriner.

On the program was a style show exhibiting the work of the Home Economics Department, numbers by the band and chorus, and a maypole dance by the sophomore girls.

Preceding the program the school was open to visitors, who viewed the new school and examined the many student exhibits.

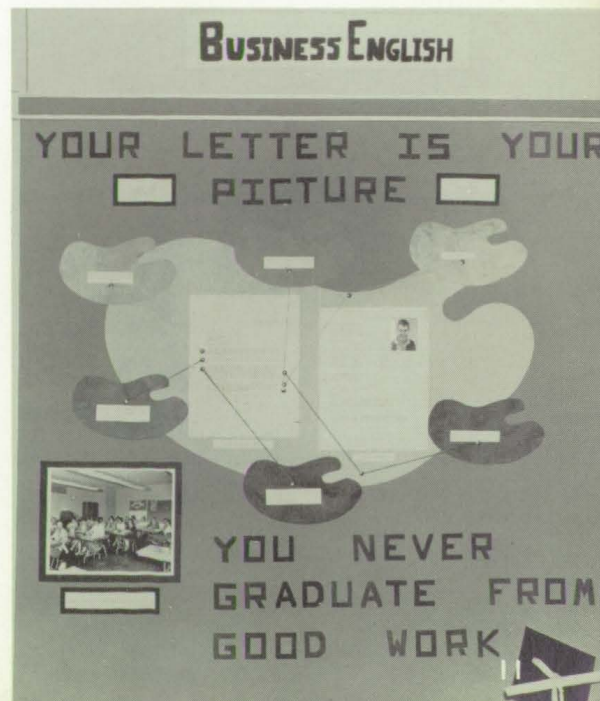

Queen Nancie reigns regally over May Day.

A colorful maypole dance by the sophomore girls climaxed the program.

NEW ISTA BUILDING SCENE OF PROM

Over 250 guests attended the Junior-Senior Prom and Banquet at the ISTA Building, April 29, 1960. Junior class president, Don Adams, welcomed the seniors and Jon Matthias, senior class president, accepted for his class. Short after-dinner speeches were made by Supt. Warren Hert and Principal William Curry. Star decorations carried out the theme "Starlight Serenade."

Carroll Selke and Richard Short were crowned Queen and King of the Prom by junior class officers, Don Adams and Sandra Davis.

Vic Knight's "Squires" furnished the music for the evening.

Thrilling smiles were flashed by Prom King, Richard, and Prom Queen, Carroll, as they received their trophies.

Seated at the speakers table, enjoying a turkey dinner at the Prom, were class presidents, Jon and Don and their dates.

Senior candidates nominated for the royal position were: Mike Davidson, Joe Curtsinger, Jerry Thompson, Jon Matthias, Richard Short, Carroll Selke, Judy Clair, Nancie Hert, Sandy VanHoy, and Wilma Boyd.

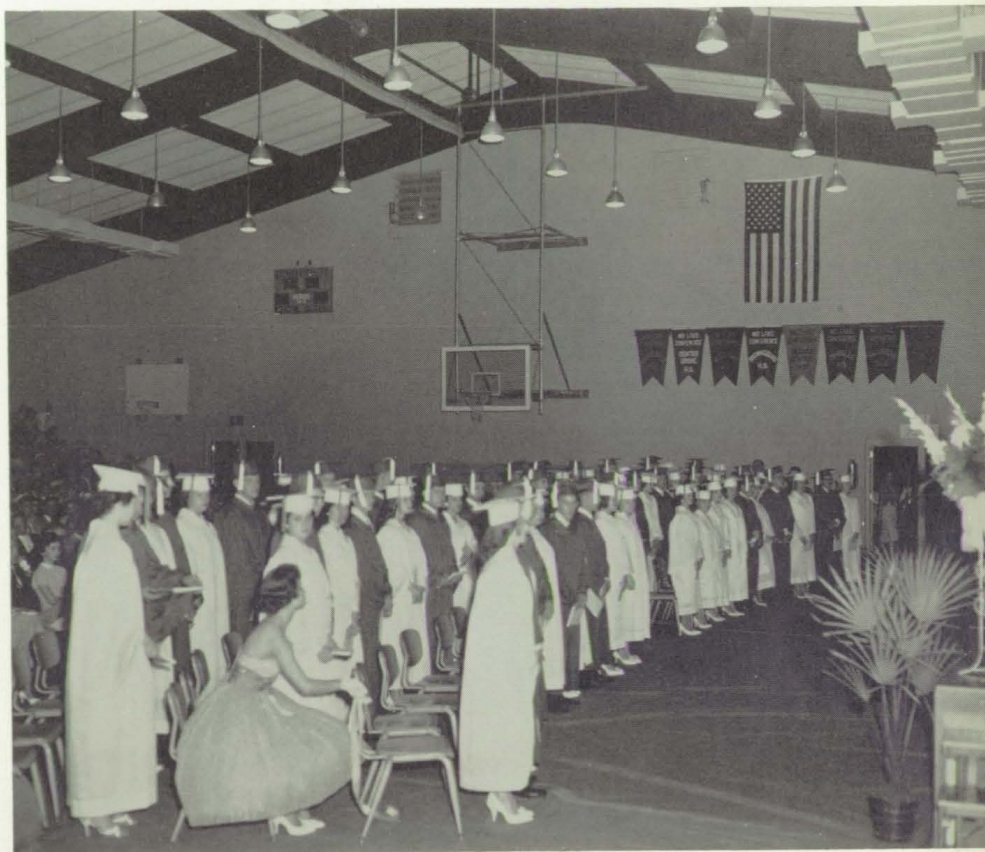

GRADUATES URGED TO SEEK GOALS

The seventy-sixth annual commencement service was held in the new gymnasium May 26, 1960.

Delivering the address to the sixty-eight graduating seniors was Dr. Merrill B. McFall, pastor of the Irvington Methodist Church, Indianapolis.

Valedictory and salutatory speeches were given by Sandra VanHoy and Stephen Hilliker.

After the recessional, seniors formed a reception line around the gymnasium to receive congratulations from parents and friends.

Solemn, yet excited, seniors marched down the hall for Baccalaureate, May 22, 1960.

Seniors enjoyed the tea given in their honor by the American Association of University Women.

ACADEMICS

Ralph Waldo Emerson once wrote, "The things taught in schools are not an education, but the means of an education." Only by making use of the skill, knowledge, and depth of human experience we acquire in school can we learn to live a full life.

A desire to gain knowledge stimulated us to seek high scholastic attainment. As you turn through these pages may you remember and practice the ideals and skills taught to you by your teachers.

LONG-RANGE PLANNING DONE BY SCHOOL BOARD AND ADMINISTRATION

Mr. Warren Hert, Superintendent of the Mooresville Consolidated Schools, has a very busy day keeping up with the Mooresville, Walnut Grove, North Madison, and Waverly schools.

Mr. Carl Porter, business manager, keeps files, records, and information concerning the school's business while working at the Superintendent's office on North Indiana Street.

Our School Board is not seen by our students in everyday school life, yet the school could not function without it. With the welfare of the school and the student body in mind, the Board does all the long-range planning for new school buildings, new teachers, and better facilities.

The Board members meet semi-monthly during the school year. Three of the members are elected to their office for a two-year term as township trustees; two are appointed by the town board.

New dimensions are nowhere more apparent than in our high school office. Entering the door you walk into a comfortably furnished reception room which leads into a secretarial office. This divides into various other convenient rooms, including a conference room, the principal's office, a supply room, a room containing office records, the guidance counselor's office, and the indispensable intercom system.

The modern up-to-date administration office has achieved new dimensions.

Mr. William Curry, principal at Mooresville for the last 3 years, obtained his B.S. and M.S. degrees from Indiana University. Besides his busy office schedule, he is also sponsor of the National Honor Society and supervises the Student Council.

Mrs. Rachel Galloway and Miss Linda Lugar are secretaries to the superintendent. The many problems connected with four schools are solved efficiently by these helpers.

Mrs. Bonnie Montgomery, our principal's secretary, assists the teachers and students with supplies and information.

DEBATE TEAM AND AUDIO EQUIPMENT

Mrs. Dragoo, a new teacher this year, did much for the English department. She organized and sponsored a debate club, taught several English classes, and gave instructions to the seniors in speech and composition. The juniors were happy to have her as their class sponsor.

This sophomore English class learned the fundamentals of writing and word usage. The first semester they studied grammar and the second semester was spent studying literature.

Mrs. Paul, returning here after five years, taught three English classes and was the school librarian. She enjoyed setting up our new library which has 2200 books. As an extra-curricular project Mrs. Paul sponsored the National Honor Society.

SPARK INTEREST IN LANGUAGE DEPARTMENTS

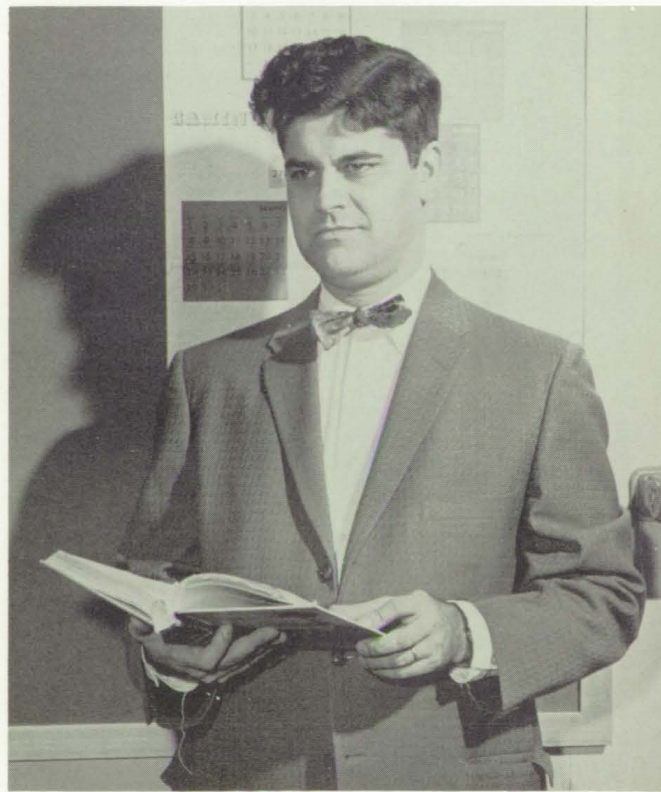

The Latin class studied the lives of the Romans, their language, and the various gods and goddesses. Maps and pictures on the bulletin board displayed the ancient Roman life.

The Spanish language and customs are made real to those in this foreign language class. In their work they often used the helpful dictaphone which enabled them to better learn the Spanish language.

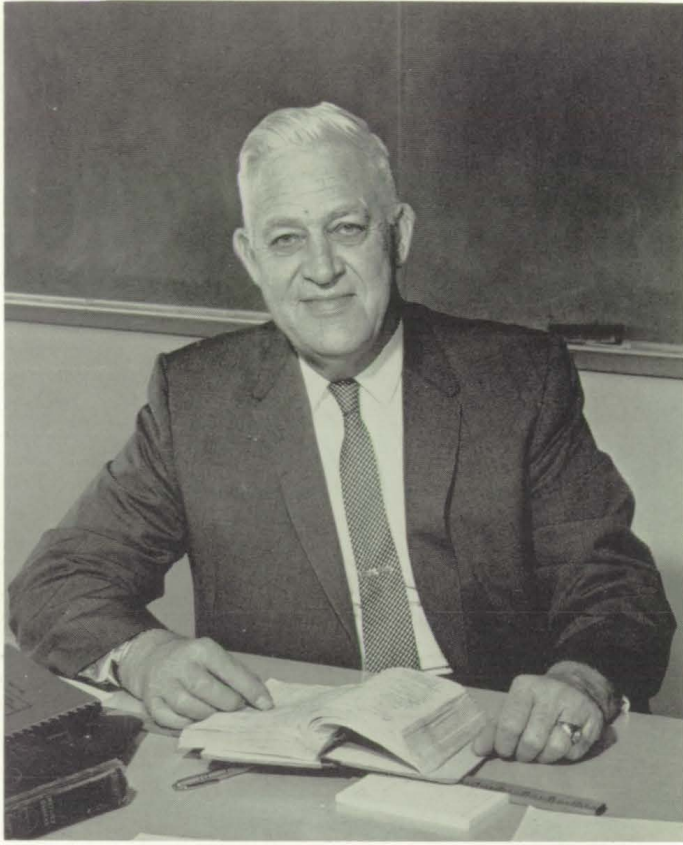

Mrs. Richardson enjoyed teaching the Latin classes and taught as she has done for the past three years. Sponsoring the Latin Club and the National Honor Society gave her a limited amount of leisure time.

Mr. Ray exemplified a Spanish air in his classes and used many interesting techniques to teach the students the Spanish language.

MATH AND SCIENCE PREPARE US TO

Mr. Smallwood has taught the mathematics classes here the science of figures and diagrams for the past three years. The majority of Mooresville students take all the math they can. Not only was his school day busy, but he spent many after school hours helping students at his home. He also sponsored the Freshman class.

Mr. James Bourne substituted six weeks in the mathematics department the first semester, during Mr. Smallwood's absence.

The algebra classes learned the basis to all higher mathematics. Here one of the three classes study problems dealing with square roots.

COMPETE IN A TECHNICAL WORLD

Sufficient laboratory space gave the students an opportunity to put their knowledge into practice. With Bunsen burners and test tubes, Terry Fennimore, David McPhee, Barbara Noble, Tina Broadstreet, and Gary Butcher set up an experiment.

Mr. Sears taught all our science courses, including biology, chemistry, and physics. After teaching two years in the old, crowded school, he appreciated the modern equipped laboratory of the new school. As sponsor of the Science Club, he inspired its members with increasing interests. Two of his club members won National Science Institute scholarships to summer Institutes.

Studious pupils figure out the elements and practices to use in performing their chemistry experiments. Each laboratory analysis must be clearly understood before continuing its procedures.

The storage cupboards contain necessary scientific equipment and proper elements for experimental purposes. Jim Williams, Cheryl McComb, and David McPhee tidy up the lab.

BUSINESS STUDENTS EXCEL — APPLY SKILLS TO PRACTICAL USE

These business students won ten of the twelve industrial awards given at the Monrovia Invitational Business Contest. This entitled them to the traveling trophy and an individual trophy in each of the shorthand, bookkeeping, Typing I and II divisions. Seated, left to right: Cheryl McComb, Virgilene Kays, Martha Dorsett, and Kay Record. Standing: Sharon Dye, Cindy McElwain, Ronald Allender, Dick Antrim, Sandy Van Hoy, and Carole McClure.

In this Business English class seniors learned grammar, how to write business letters, and enlarged their vocabulary.

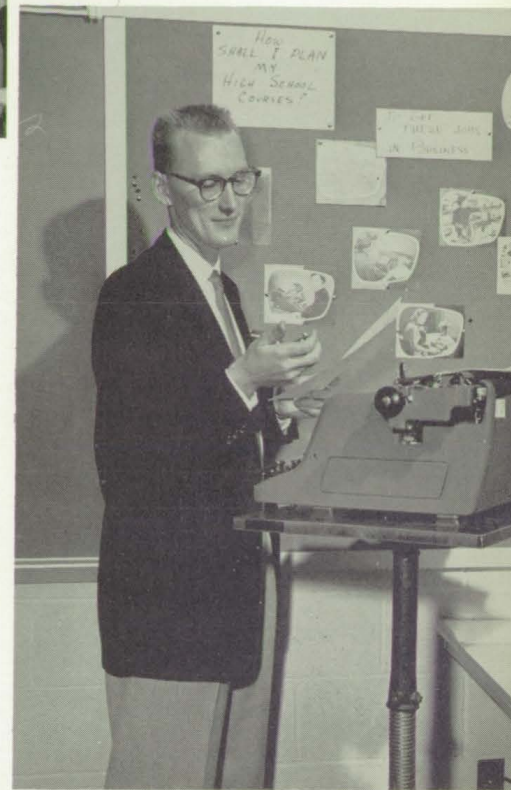

Sponsoring the WAGON TRAILS and Student Council, doing school publicity, and teaching Business English was a big job for Mrs. Jackson—a half-time teacher.

These juniors in office practice learned filing procedures and office techniques.

Standing at the demonstration stand, Mr. Jackson gets the Typing I class ready for a timed writing. The business classes he taught were Typing I and II, office practice, shorthand, and general business. Extracurricular activities sponsored by Mr. Jackson were the junior class and the CAMPUS CRIER.

Bookkeeping students did two practice sets giving them practical experience in learning how to keep books.

Mrs. Cowen gives instructions on the use of the adding machine to one of her sections of bookkeeping. She also taught business math and Typing I in addition to sponsoring the senior class, the Mooresville branch of the National Honor Society, and the CAMPUS CRIER.

New Singer machines were enjoyed by these Home Ec. III girls—Judy Clair, Deanie Boyd, Jean Sisk, and Judy Goad.

All home economics classes were taught by Mrs. Alexander. She sponsored FHA and co-sponsored Student Council.

In home nursing class Louise Swinney made the bed with patient, Mary Wade, in it.

MODERN, WELL-EQUIPPED HOME ECONOMICS DEPARTMENT PROVIDES IDEAL LEARNING ATMOSPHERE

Our home economics department is the most modernly equipped classroom. Spacious wooden closets surround two of the three rooms and are used to accommodate the clothing and other work materials of the students. All new blond sewing machines make work easier for the seamstress. Another useful area for the sewing department is the fitting room with its large mirrors. The kitchen space is divided into individual units, each containing cabinets, a sink, and a stove. A dinette set and a refrigerator complete the kitchen area.

Wanda Perry, Joyce Roberts, Roxy Van Horn, and Karen Goodrid practiced making cherry tarts in the modern equipped kitchen.

These Home Ec. II girls take advantage of the long fitting mirrors in their clothing unit.

SOCIAL PROBLEMS ADDED TO CURRICULUM

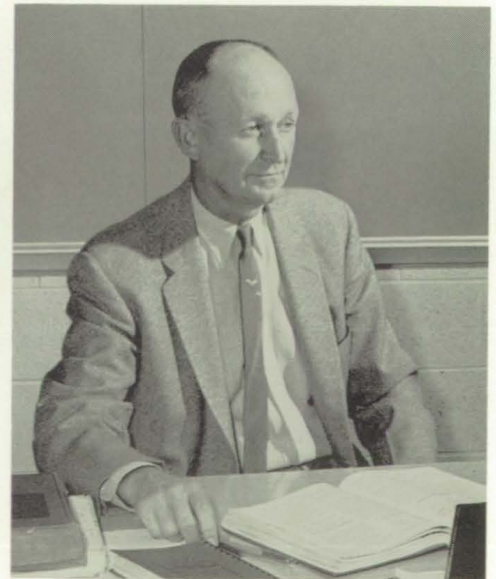

The social problems class takes advantage of each opportunity to learn more about current problems among people and their reactions to changing situations. The class was added to our academic schedule for the first time this year and has created a great interest in our social studies curriculum.

Mr. Sparks revealed America's past to his junior history classes. As a teacher of one social problems class, he led many discussions on challenging situations. He also coached our varsity basketball team and is co-sponsor of the Letterman's Club.

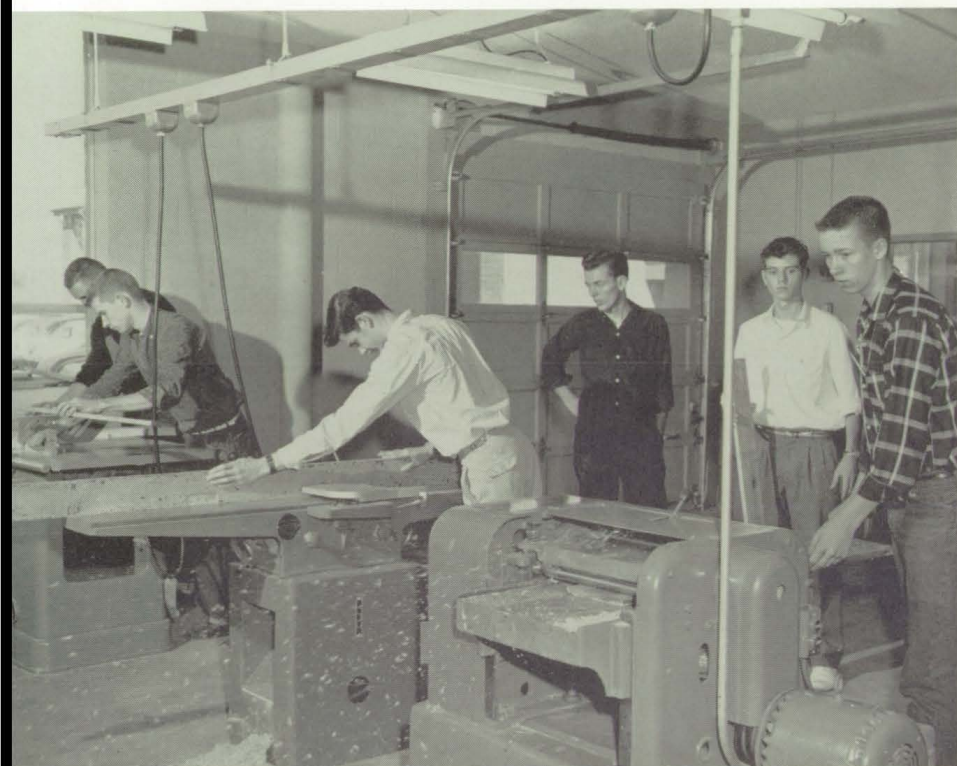

Mr. East spends two periods a day teaching seniors the fundamentals of our government. The remainder of his day is spent as guidance counselor and is devoted to students seeking information concerning their careers.

Mr. Vaughn stimulated student's interest in our changing world as he taught two world history classes, coached the junior varsity basketball team, and co-sponsored the sophomore class.

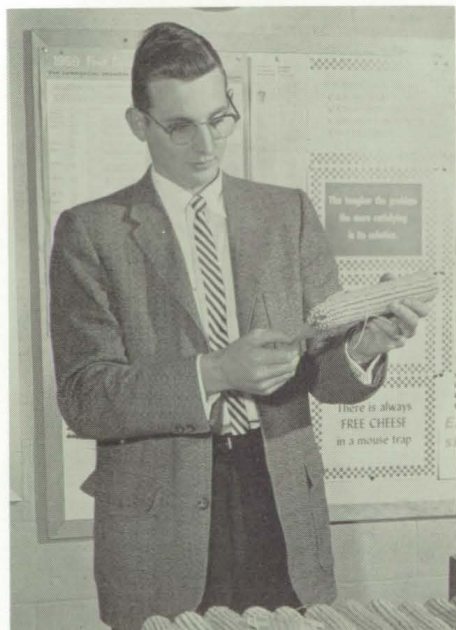

PUPILS LEARN PRACTICAL APPLICATION OF SKILLS

The main objective of the shop department is to train boys in the skills and knowledge of woodworking. These boys are working with the circular saw, the joiner, and the surfacer.

In a shop class, Mr. Norman Hall demonstrates the use of the handy new power saw. The freshman class also benefits from his sponsorship.

Mr. Jerry Brown judges corn specimens in one of his agriculture classes. Besides his regular classes he has an active schedule which includes sponsoring FFA, Boys' 4-H, and the senior class.

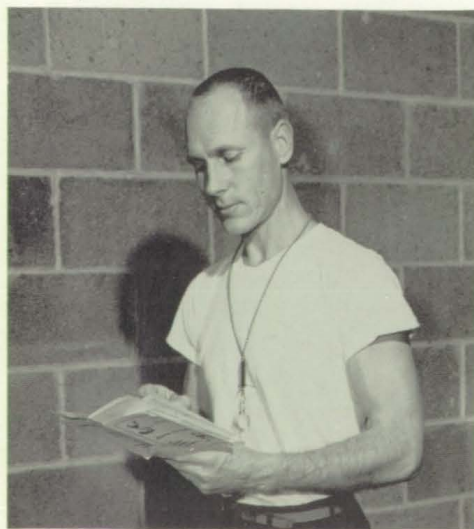

In agriculture class high school boys learn farming procedures they will need to become farmers in the future. With their competent learning, these boys test soil fertility by using various chemicals.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION INSTRUCTORS STRESS HEALTH

One of the many classes Mr. Forsythe taught was the sophomore boys' physical education. Wrestling was one of the highlights of the year for this class.

To keep slim figures, exercise is a must! Here the sophomore girls tried some of the slenderizing exercises their instructor demonstrated for them.

Mr. Forsythe, athletic director, was always on the go helping in our sports department. He was coach of the football and baseball teams as well as the newly organized wrestling team. He also was a sponsor of the Letterman's Club.

Mrs. Roberts was called on several times throughout the school year to do substitute teaching in various classes. She acted as girls' physical education instructor the first semester.

Mrs. Rodarmel, a new teacher second semester, taught the girls' physical education classes and a social problems class. Her interests lay in working with individuals through classwork and sports. She sponsored the G.A.A., Cheerblock, cheerleaders and the sophomore class.

MUSIC AND ART INSTILLED CULTURE APPRECIATION

Miss Kidwell, the chorus instructor, spent many hours preparing for programs such as the Pre-Easter Concert, County Music Festival, District Contest, and assembly programs. She taught at the Junior High most of the day before directing the high school chorus in the afternoon.

Our band director, Mr. Battershell, conducted the band which won a first place plaque at the District Music Contest held here at Mooresville. This was the first time in fifteen years our school has won this award. He had a marching band during football season and the regular band played at all home basketball games.

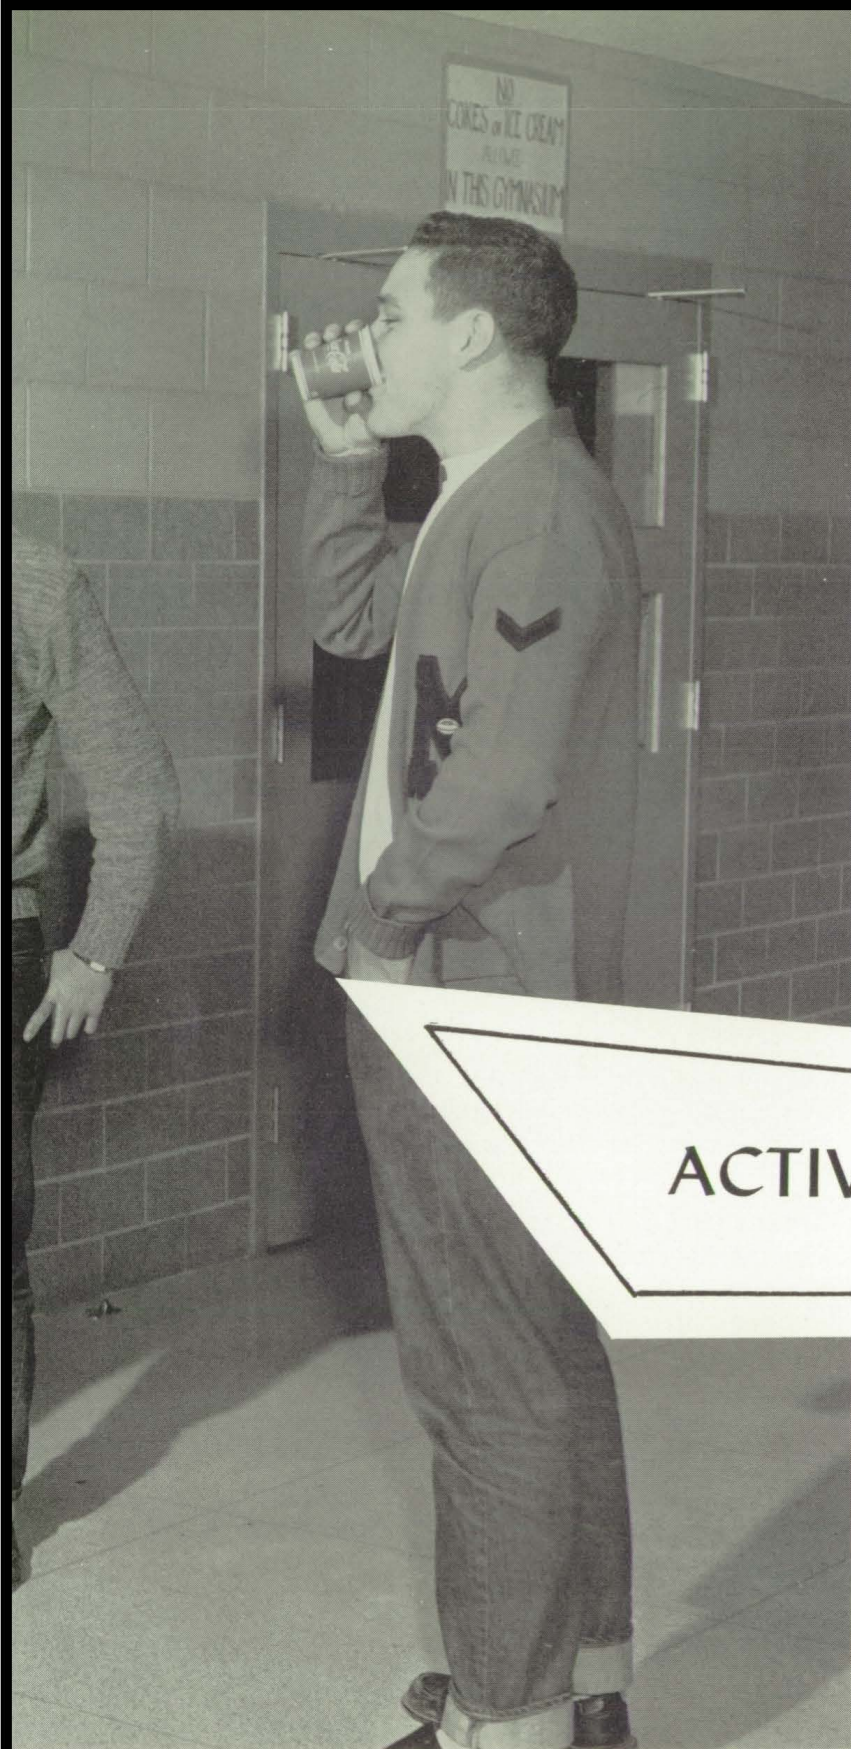

Miss Like inspired the artistic aptitude of many of our students in all grades. Walls of the art room are decorated with students' paintings. This year two of her students' paintings won honors in the Indiana Regional Art Exhibition held at I. S. Ayres & Co.

The chorus took pride in their musical talents which they displayed at many performances throughout the year. Mooresville students were very proud to host both the County Music Festival and the District Music Contest in our new school.

During our year at MHS life was constantly filled with laughter, fun, and excitement. The spirit and vivacity of our activities provided a way to express ourselves and an outlet for our leisure time. There were many little moments which in themselves might have seemed insignificant, but they blended together to form a year of many activities.

ACTIVITIES

WAGON TRAILS STAFF STRIVES FOR "A" RATING

Many hours of work and toil are spent in the process of producing a Yearbook.

The complete task is not placed on the co-editors' shoulders alone. To assist them in the work, department editors are chosen. Each of these different editors are responsible for their section of the book.

"Meet Me Tonight In Dreamland" was the theme of the annual yearbook dance. It was one of the biggest dances of the year.

This year's staff is striving to get an "A" rating for the second consecutive year in the National School Yearbook Association.

Assistant Editor Jackie Swope, and Editor Phil Coleman, with their advisor Mrs. Jackson, planned the 1960 Wagon Trails. They checked every word of the 132 pages before it was sent to press in June. The staff members voted that the NSYA award go to Mrs. Jackson for her endless and outstanding work on the yearbook.

Paula Swisher, Phil Coleman, Jackie Swope, Archie Adams, Nancy Hert, Carol Anders, and Jacki Littell, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, attended the IHSPA Convention at Franklin College.

Students eagerly look through their new 1959 WAGON TRAILS and autograph their friends' books at the autograph dance sponsored by the annual staff. This was the first dance of the school year—held the first week of school.

Wilma Willis and Archie Adams were chosen by their classmates to be the assistant editor and editor of the 1961 WAGON TRAILS. They attended Indiana University Journalism Institute during the summer to learn the new techniques in yearbook editing.

YEAR OF CHANGE FOR CAMPUS CRIER

CRIER Editors Carol Anders and Nina House found planning and laying out the paper to be fun as well as lots of hard work.

Many changes were initiated in the CAMPUS CRIER this year. In the first issue you noticed the headlined front page instead of the magazine-type picture.

Publication was changed to once a month from the traditional six weeks.

Columns of Kids 'N Kapers, Speak Now, Gasoline Alley, and Know Your Teacher were added to the regular features.

More pictures were added and the sports section was increased to two pages in story form.

The staff worked hard to achieve their goal of improved newspaper style and copy.

Department editors seated at a "round table discussion" are Rosemary Lamar, Penny Lett, Nina House and Sharon Keltner. Standing: Tom Sundling, Archie Adams, Cindy McElwain, and Sandy Van Hoy.

News contributors during the year were from grades 7-12.

RECOGNITION REWARDS STUDENT ACHIEVEMENT

Our newly instituted debate team participated in several tourneys. Those who debated under the direction of debate coach, Mrs. Dragoo, were Don Adams, Joe Van Bokkelen, Joan Adams, Diane Adams, Steve Stockwell, Phillip Gibbs, Danny Koenig, and Karen Miller.

Sandra Van Hoy, left, was the recipient of the annual DAR award.

Jackie Robinson won the Jaycees' safety slogan contest with the winning phrase, "Drive Safely—Your Children Are Watching."

Essay winners this year in the Americanism contest sponsored by the American Legion Auxiliary were Phil Coleman, first in the boys' division; Steve Hilliker, second; Nancy Via, first; Sharon Keltner, second. In the tuberculosis contest Nina House was first and Deanna O'Hair second.

Carole McClure, Mayanne Record, Sandra Niemeir, and Cheryl McComb flash winning smiles after finding out that they placed first in the regional tests of the high school achievement contest. They entered the 46th annual state high school achievement contest at Indiana University and earned honorable mention in English, Latin I, and Latin II.

"Ye gods—shocking pink," Bill Robinson exclaims over Joe Norris' paint job.

PAINT THE TOWN PINK was one of the most unusual productions ever staged at Mooresville High in both setting and plot.

The plot concerned the exchange of positions of the students and the teachers of Mansfield High School. The joker in the exchange was that the teachers actually behaved like students and added to the trials and tribulations of the faculty-for-a-day. The setting was the principal's office.

Truly the senior play cast displayed what a mess we could make of MHS in one short day if we were only given the chance!

Everyone cheers "Yea, Shinbone" at the brainstorming.

"Let's get to your seats. This thing is about to start," says Joe Curtsinger as they all leave for the PTA meeting.

Under the direction of Mrs. Dragoo, the Junior Class presented a hilarious three-act comedy. Pictured above is the entire cast rehearsing last minute details before the curtain rose.

No wonder Mike and Terry look surprised; Danny is supposed to be dead! It really turned out to be a prank just to see what everyone truly thought of him.

Joe tried in vain for years to get Wilma to show him some affection, but it's easy to see he only got the "brush-off."

HIGH IDEALS UPHELD IN HONOR

Membership in the Honor Society is determined on the basis of character, leadership, service, and scholarship, in Mooresville High School.

At left is the Honor Society's fall initiation. Three new members were taken in at that time. Sixteen additional members were initiated in the spring initiation.

The Lions Club-Faculty basketball game was again sponsored by the Honor Society. Following their game the Honor Society boys challenged the Honor Society girls in a game of volleyball.

SOCIETY AND STUDENT COUNCIL

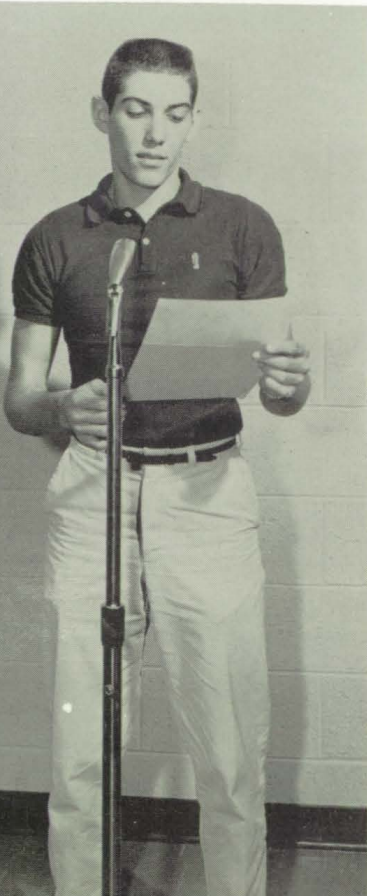

One of the most active organizations in school is the Student Council. This year they became a member of the National Association of Student Councils. The Council is made up of twelve students. They are elected by their fellow classmates—three members from each of the freshman, sophomore, junior, and senior classes. They have played a big role in making our first year in the new school a successful one.

Projects sponsored by the Student Council this year were the Homecoming Parade, school assemblies, decorating of our school at Christmas time, and starting a new tradition of electing a basketball queen.

New students coming into school are introduced by Student Council members to teachers and student body. In this way they become acquainted with our school. Sponsors of the Student Council are Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Alexander.

Keeping the bulletin board posted with bulletins from different colleges, dance posters, and other notices, is one of the jobs of the Student Council.

L. to R.: W. VanWinkle, J. Casey, C. Selke, M. Gibbs, C. Thompson, Mrs. Alexander. ROW TWO: S. Van Hoy, L. Short, A. Adams, M. Davidson, M. Free, Mrs. Jackson. Absent (for picture): J. Welty, G. Kenworthy.

President Mike Davidson introduces one of the entertainers at an assembly for the student body.

SCIENCE AND LATIN CLUBS ADVANCE INTERESTS

SCIENCE CLUB

Our Science Department was well pleased with the modern equipment made available to them in the new lab. More detailed experiments were possible with the proper facilities. The organization is under the leadership of Mr. Sears.

LATIN CLUB

Students who are members of Latin I or II may further their interest in this language by belonging to the Latin Club.

Attending the movie of "Ben Hur," and sponsoring the annual Latin Dance were the highlights of the club. Mrs. Richardson is their sponsor.

VOCATIONAL CLUBS STRENGTHEN STUDENT EXPERIENCE

FFA—L. to R., ROW I: S. Cooper, R. Lee, R. Barnett, B. Davis, C. Allen, J. Noel, Mr. Brown. ROW II: D. West, D. Waltz, C. Denny, H. Estes, B. Shortt, P. Kays. ROW III: G. Napier, R. Davee, S. Denny, E. Stanley, R. Stone, K. Weddle, L. Shover. ROW IV: L. Ulrey, J. Wells, E. West, R. Clair, B. McNabney, K. Miller, and D. Huth.

Sponsoring a chili supper, which over 300 people attended, was the FHA's biggest event.

"Fools Paradise" was the theme of the WPA dance which, appropriately enough, was held on April 1. Mrs. Alexander sponsored this organization.

FFA participated in many judging contests. They placed first in the county crop judging contest at Martinsville. Mr. Brown served as sponsor.

FHA—L. to R.: Mrs. Alexander, A. Hadley, S. Davis, M. Gibbs, J. Boyd, S. Johnson, M. McNabney, T. Davis, S. Keltner, S. Head, N. Hert, C. Selke, D. Boyd. ROW II: C. McComb, C. McElwain, N. House, S. MODERN MUSIC DEPARTMENT HOSTS COUNTY AND DISTRICT FESTIVALS

Above, L. to R.: Karen Barnhart, Kay Allison. Both of our soloists won first at the district contest, but ranked second in the State Contest getting an Excellent Rating.

AT RIGHT, L. to R.: R. Lamar, K. Allison, S. Davis, D. O'Hair, L. Williams, L. Western. The Junior Sextet also took a first place at State Contest this year. This being their first year to attend State Contest proved to be a rewarding and thrilling experience. They're looking forward to next year's contest in hopes of getting that second, first place medal!

Mooreville was host to two different important musical events this year for the first time. The County Festival was held here with all county schools participating.

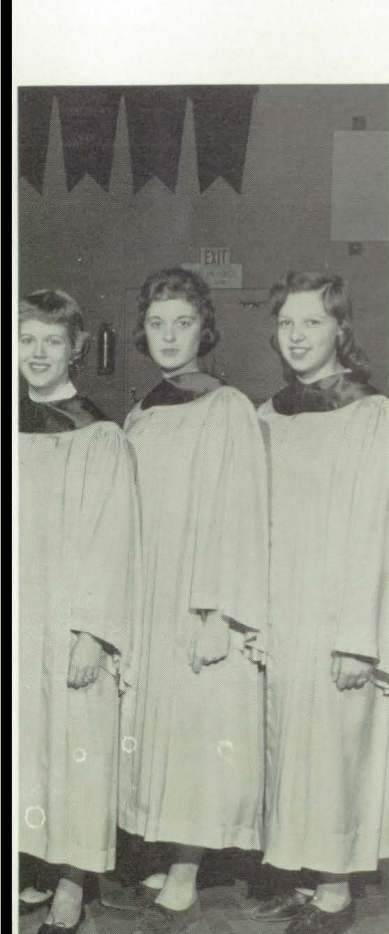

District Music Contest was held here with more than fifteen schools in class B and BB from surrounding areas taking part.

The Chorus presented an Easter Concert. A religious mural painting behind the Chorus added to the effectiveness of the program.

For the second consecutive year, the girls' quartet, Karen Barnhart, Kay Allison, Karen Shepherd, and Paula Swisher, took a first place at the State Solo and Ensemble Contest.

MIXED CHORUS—L. to R.: B. Davis, M. Western, J. Neal, P. Wagner, K. Barnhart, N. Hert, P. Nott, P. Swisher, K. Shepherd, L. Hawkins, D. Johnson. ROW 2: R. Diebel, D. McPhee, B. Hastings, S. Drum majorette, Sharon Hamblen, leads the band in one of the many performances given at the football games.

First place ensemble winners at the district instrumental contest at Depauw University, February 6, were Rose Ann Park, Peggy Truax, Gan Fields, Terry Fenimore, Karen Miller, Frank Featherston, Bill Harad and Nancy Via.

COLORFUL DECOR ACCENTS FUNCTIONAL BAND ROOM

For the first time in fifteen years, the Mooresville band placed first in the district music contest held here. They were awarded a bronze plaque.

Out of six entries in the state instrumental solo and ensemble contest, Mooresville won three firsts. First place winners were Tom Hilliker and Terry Fenimore, soloists; Nancy Via and Bill Harad, duet.

Football and basketball fans saw the band in action at all games, and seniors marched to its rhythm at commencement.

Soloists taking top honors at Depauw were Tom Hilliker, Carl Cowen, and Terry Fenimore.

Daily.

G.A.A. and Lettermen's Club are the school's two organizations which are devoted primarily to athletics.

At every basketball game there was always a Letterman around to supply you with an ice cream bar. This was their main money-making project.

Senior girls who received letter sweaters this year in G.A.A. were: Deanie Boyd, Pearl Nott, and Ruby Bell.

Every Friday afternoon after school the gym rang with laughter and squeals of excitement as G.A.A. girls played basketball, square danced, and ran relays.

G.A.A.—L. to R.: V. McComb, D. Adams, S. Corcoran, P. Nott, Mrs. Rodarmel, Sponsor. ROW TWO: L. Western, D. Knapp, K. Keck, S. Meredith, P. Weakly, S. Ayres. ROW THREE: R. Parks, B. Richards, J. White Blouse Club is the largest school organization with 125 members. The club fostered good sportsmanship, gave the teams support, and led the student body in yells.

STUDENT HELP, COOKS, AND JANITORS WORK

Mrs. Montgomery was Mr. Curry's assistant during the first four periods of the day. Office girls were on hand to help do typing, run errands, and other jobs for Mr. Curry throughout the afternoon.

Seated are Mrs. Montgomery and Deanie Boyd. Standing are Anita Heshelman, Judy Clair, Mr. Curry, Carroll Selke, and Penny Lett.

Mrs. Paul, our school librarian, was assisted by students who donated their study hall period. Although our library was still in its infancy, we enjoyed the availability of some 2200 books.

Everyone eating the same period cut down on our cafeteria help. The students who served the lunches were allowed to get their lunch free, plus 1.25 a week.

TO MAKE OUR SCHOOL DAY RUN SMOOTHLY

Menus planned by Mr. Swope were prepared by our cooks Mrs. Copeland, and Mrs. Plummer. Each day approximately 350 students enjoyed eating in our modern cafeteria equipped with music from the intercom system.

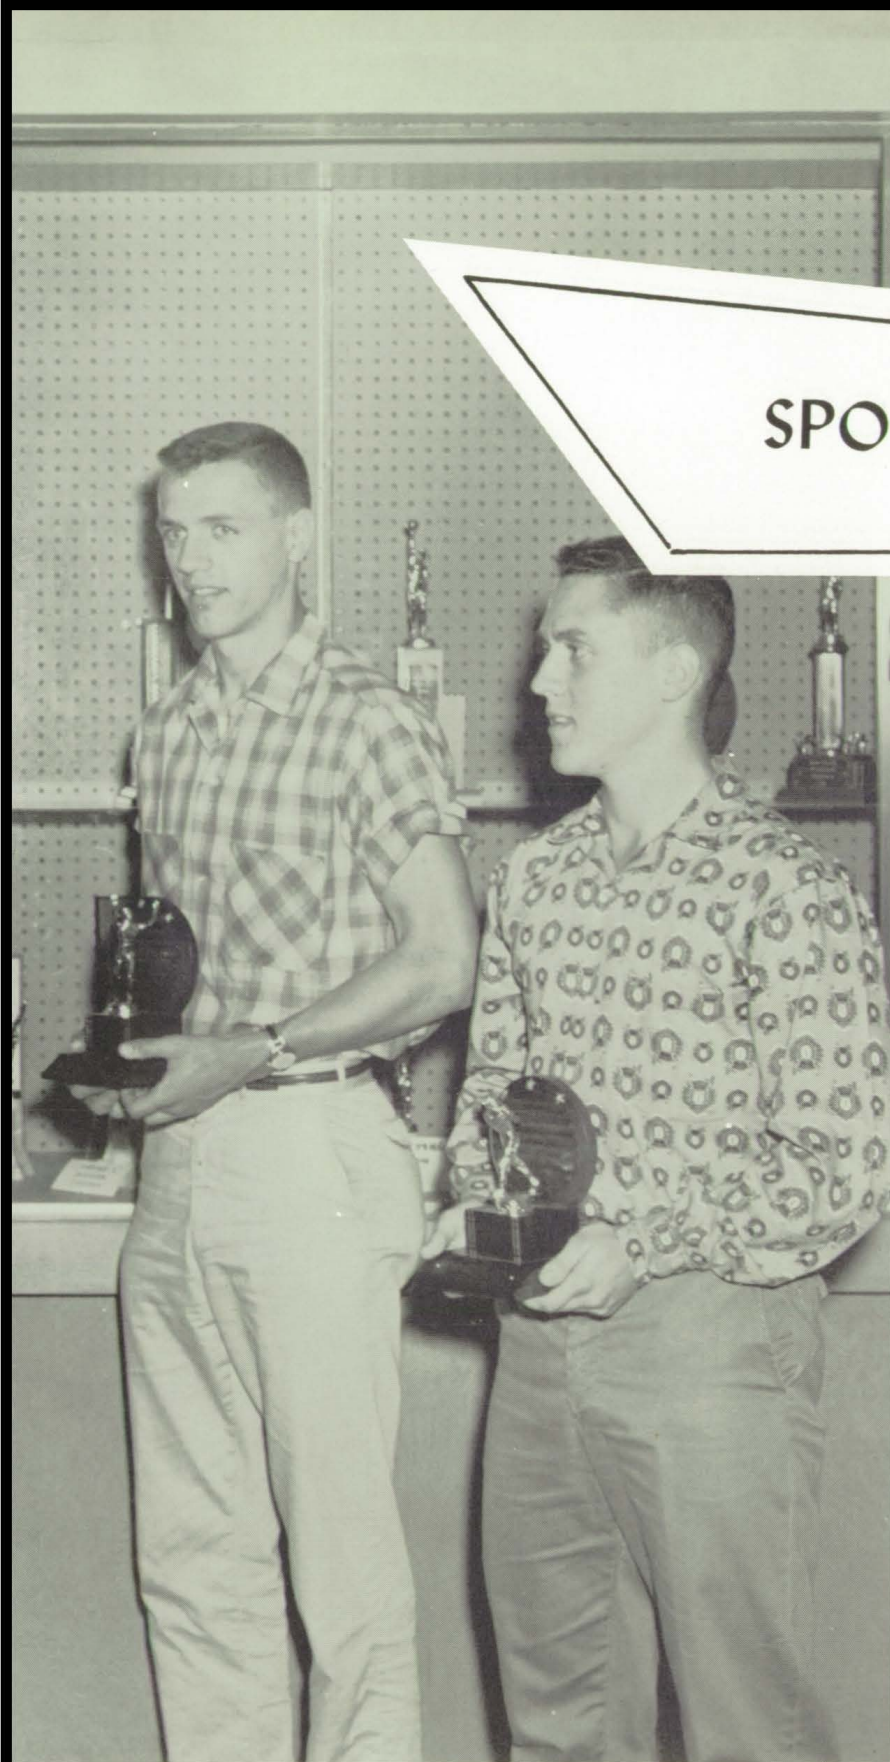

Mrs. Harbin, our school nurse, kept a full schedule spending her morning hours at the grade school, and her afternoon hours at the high school.

Familiar to all of us were Mr. Fields, Mr. Downey, and Mr. Starkey, who worked hard to keep our floors, windows, and classrooms neat and clean.

SPORTS

"The mind ought sometimes to be diverted, that it may return the better to thinking."

Phaedrus

Our sports provided us with the recreation that is necessary to whet the mind. In competitive sports of football, basketball, baseball, and track we watched our athletes excel, and in intramural sports we participated or watched as we chose.

GRID TEAM ATTAINS BEST SEASON SINCE '51

This year's varsity which finished with a 5-5 record proved to be one of the best teams Mooresville has had in years. The '59 squad was undefeated after the first two games; a feat never before attained by a Mooresville team in the history of football here. This was accomplished by defeating Jasonville 25-0 and Center Grove 19-13.

The alert Pioneers played their best game against the Plainfield eleven. After being down 24-0, Mooresville struck back for 20 points making the final score 24-20—Quaker's.

Coaches wait for play.

PERSONALITIES

At school we have many social contacts that directly influence our lives. These are our friends and fellow students we see each day. With these people our character is molded and our reputation made. As you go through the following pages remember how each of your classmates affected your own familiar world . . .

TOGETHER WITH OUR OFFICERS

Department editors oversee Yearbook Editor, Phil Coleman, as he keeps track of the remaining days of school.

Seniors were reminded of the nearness of graduation as Charles Allen is measured for his cap and gown.

JUNIOR HIGH

This year our school changed from a 6:6 to a 6:2:4 system. Junior high students became adjusted to the change and began to make the transition from grade school to high school.

Being a separate unit, the junior high enjoyed having its own sports, clubs, and activities.

ADMINISTRATION AND FACULTY DIRECT SCHOOL LIFE

ADMINISTRATION

Principal Mr. George Boyd was respected and liked by 385 junior high students. He has been in the Mooresville School system six years. This year was the first year for junior high to be separated from the high school.

Ably assisting Mr. Boyd was his secretary Mrs. Ross Truax.

NEW HORIZONS IN ACTIVITIES ARE

The Student Council was organized the first of the year. It consists of two elected members from each section, the class officers, and the sponsors Mr. Boyd, Mr. Koenig, and Mr. Galloway.

They serve as a representative group to the students at large and help to administer the whole school program. One of their duties has been to help new students get acquainted in all phases of school life.

The officers are: Steve Harris, President; Peggy Truax, Vice President; Sharon Morrison, Secretary; and Beverly Johnson, Treasurer.

The Safety Patrol Boys have been guided by Mr. Brenton. These boys have performed faithfully all year. They are posted each school day at the main intersections to help direct traffic and see that students obey safety rules. They are as follows: ROW 1: David Barnhart, Morton Carmichall, Rick VanBokkelen, Bill Roberson. ROW 2: Mr. Brenton, John Wood, Richard Hagarty, Roger Mason, Authur Smith.

The Audio-Visual Club was organized the second semester. It is made up of two representatives from each section in the 7th and 8th grades. Mr. Jackson is the sponsor. The club elected Mike Hankins, President; Cheryl Beasley, Vice President; and Virginia House, Secretary. The students have learned to operate the opaque projector, the amplifier, tape recorder, and record player. They have shown movies to the students at noon and assisted the teachers in using the audio-visual aids in their classes. Patricia Johnson was chosen to receive the Audio-Visual Award pin given Honor Day.

OPENED TO JUNIOR HIGH STUDENTS

L. to R.; Cheerleaders Barbara Cable, Sharon Shaffer and Judy Cable.

The Junior High School elected three cheerleaders the beginning of the school year. They have new white sweaters with blue and gold skirts. In January a Pep Club was organized with a membership of about 120 students. They made blue and gold mittens, learned new yells using cards and shakers, and attended all athletic events. They have provided a lively cheering section and helped to create a growing school spirit in the Junior High School.

Essay and spelling contests are held throughout the year. These are sponsored by the school and various organizations in the community. The winners for these contests this year are as follows: Tuberculosis Essay Contest—1st, Virginia House; 2nd, Cheryl Beasley; 3rd, Jewelene Calton. Americanism Essay Contest—1st, Dennis Moore and Beverly Hiles; 2nd, Darrell Pollock and Millicent Johnson. Thanksgiving Essay Contest—Danny Wells. Spelling Contest—Penny Fredrick.

OPPORTUNITIES ABUNDANT IN DRAMA AND MUSIC

The Junior Band is directed by Mr. Craven. It is made up of students from the 6th as well as the 7th grade. Eighth grade band students have been a part of the senior band this year.

The Junior Band has performed at most of the home ball games and the Achievement Day Program. There are approximately 35 members in the Junior Band.

The Junior High Chorus was organized in November under the direction of Mr. Craven. There are about 90 members in the chorus. They hold regular practices and have performed several times.

The dimensional growth of our town has had a tremendous affect on our school. This aerial view shows the rapid expansion of our town. The community and the school work closely together on many important projects. This mutual cooperation is beneficial to both.

We are grateful to the businessmen for their support in helping produce the 1960 Wagon Trails.
