Foreword

Progress means to improve or advance toward perfection, or to a higher state. In the last century, our school has grown from a small brick academy to a consolidated corporation. Within the pages of this book we will show you a CENTURY OF PROGRESS.

In 1860 the Friends Church constructed at the cost of $4,500 a brick academy at the west edge of town. It was more of a college preparatory school than a public school.

The Civil War drew a large number of men students to arms and the progress of the institution of learning was curbed to such an extent during the war that in 1868 the academy was sold to the town for $5,000. The academy building is still in use as a part of the junior high buildings.

In the same year that the academy was purchased, the town became an independent school district. Harrison Hubbard was the first principal under the new arrangement and was assisted by Isaac Jones and Emma Clawson as teachers.

Today Mooresville Consolidated School Corporation consists of five elementary schools, a junior high and a senior high school. The system has a teaching staff of 77 teachers and 5 principals.

Tremendous progress has been shown this past century, 1861-1961. As you turn through these pages seeing what you are doing today, it is my hope that you think ahead to the future and help plan for progress for tomorrow.

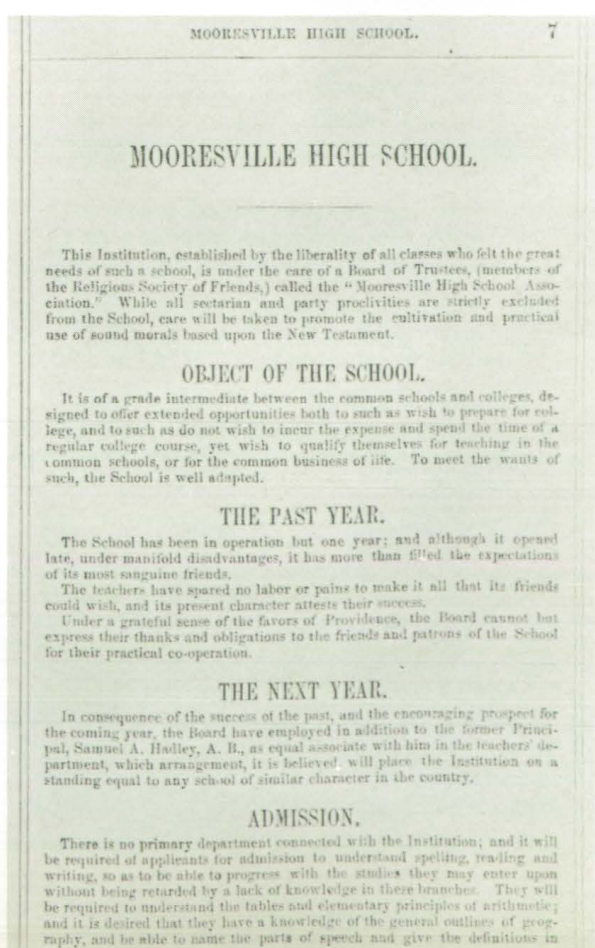

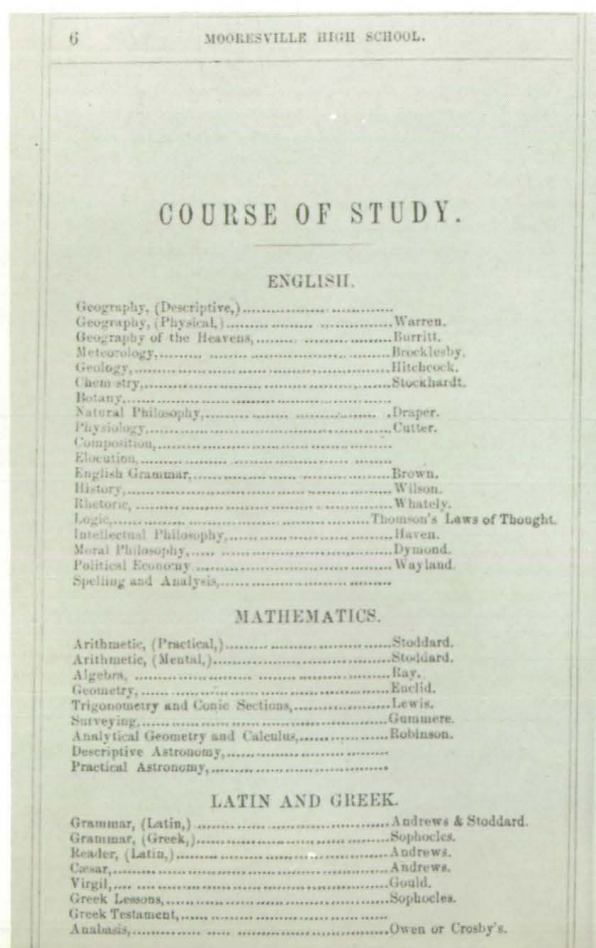

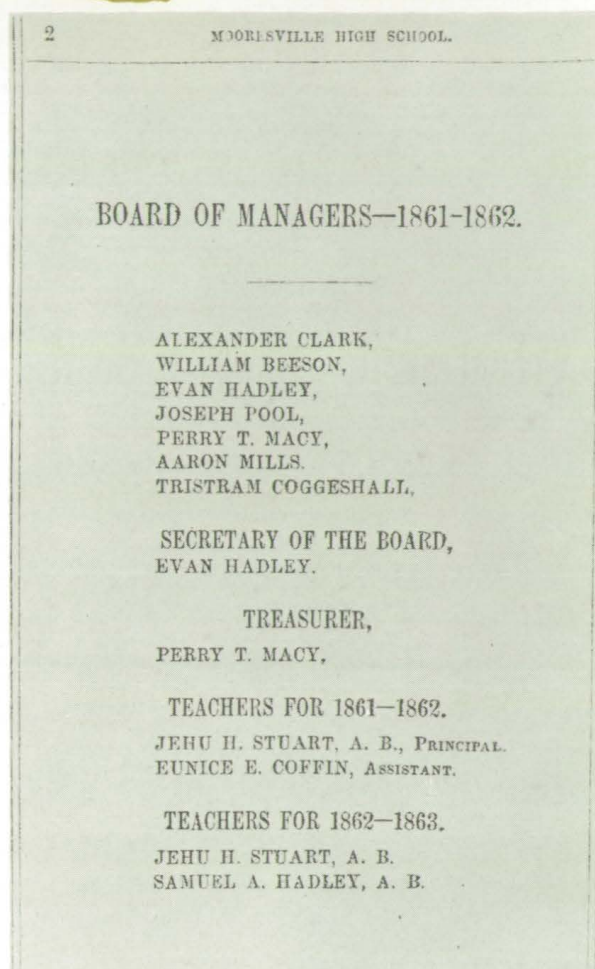

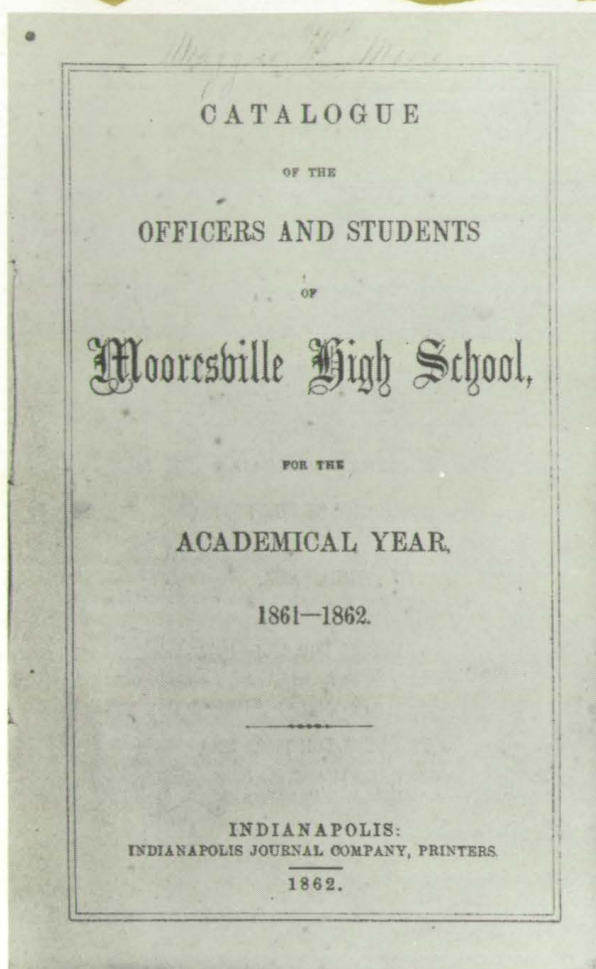

May the start you receive here keep you moving forward to another CENTURY OF PROGRESS.

MOORESVILLE HIGH SCHOOL.

It is very desirable that students enter the School at the beginning of the sessions, but they may enter at any time, and they will be charged according to the prescribed rates from that time till the close of the session, unless a shorter time be specified.

Applications for admission should be made early either to the teachers or to any one of the Board of Managers.

SESSIONS AND PRICES.

The scholastic year consists of forty weeks, divided into two sessions. The Fall session will open on the 30th of 9th mo., 1862, and close the 3d of 3d mo., 1863—time, 22 weeks. The Spring session will open the 13th of 3d mo., after a vacation of one week, and will close on the 10th or 11th of 7th mo.—time, 18 weeks.

Tuition for the Fall session will be $11.00; for the Spring session, $9.00, payable invariably in advance; and no deduction except by reason of sickness of students themselves, and then not for less time than one week of continued inability, in which case an order will be made by the Board of Managers to the Treasurer to make said deduction when the student shall have satisfied them of the reasonableness of his claims.

GOVERNMENT.

The discipline of the School is intended to be mild and liberal, but firm; as far as possible, students are made to feel that they are the rightful guardians of their own character, and that upon them rests the responsibility of the influence which they may exert upon the School.

When from any cause whatever, the influence of a student becomes hurtful to the School, he may be expelled, by order of the Board of Managers.

Scriptural instruction will be imparted in the School, and students will be expected to attend the meetings for worship of the different religious societies of which they may be members, as often as practicable.

APPARATUS AND CABINET.

The School possesses some valuable chemical and philosophical apparatus as a nucleus for further acquisition. It is also desirable to make a cabinet collection from the various branches of natural science. Donations to either will be gratefully received.

LIBRARY.

In the building is a library of over 400 volumes, accessible to the pupils, for a small fee.

LITERARY SOCIETY.

The "Addisonian" has been in successful operation from the opening of the School, and has proved to be a valuable auxiliary. Its exercises are discussions, essays and declamations. It has a nucleus for a library.

LECTURES.

Lectures on the various subjects of natural science, illustrated by experiments, and also on other subjects will be delivered during the year.

SCOPE OF INSTRUCTION.

The scope of instruction can be made as comprehensive as that of many colleges and universities, but thoroughness is one of the leading features of the School, and the instruction will have special reference to preparing students for practical life. A public examination of all the classes will be held at the close of each session.

LOCATION.

The Institution is located in a healthy region, on a beautiful lot of ground, surrounded by a grove of native forest trees and adjoining the town of Mooresville, 18 miles southwest of Indianapolis, and 7 miles south of Plainfield.

BOARDING.

Boarding can readily be obtained in good families at rates from $1.50 to $2.00 per week. Students can board themselves much cheaper by procuring rooms and furnishing their own accommodations.

Mooresvillians were proud of their new high school and they showed it by publishing the first catalogue in 1861-62.

The new high school opened in 1861 with 78 students and two teachers. Ninety-one seniors made up the 77th graduating class this year. There were 517 students enrolled in the high school with 28 teachers in 1961.

English, mathematics, Latin and Greek made up the Course of Study in 1861. Today the curriculum includes English, mathematics, science, Latin, Spanish, social studies, business, vocational home economics, vocational agriculture, industrial arts, art, and music.

Our increased curriculum of today tries to meet the many varied needs of all the 517 students.

Junior high student council members discuss current problems in front of the century old high school building. This building is now being used for junior high classrooms.

Various Social Activities and Everyday

Individual and group talents always found their place at parties such as this one sponsored by the publications staff.

Fortunate were those who attended summer institutes at Indiana University, Butler University, and Ball State to further their ability to lead each organization that they represented. With the beginning of school came the social events. Parties like that of the yearbook staff provided an enjoyable evening for those who attended. The informal chats at the candy stand, at the lockers, or students dropping their suggestions in the suggestion box of the CAMPUS CRIER kept students well informed of current happenings.

Activities Keep Students in the "Know"

Band members opening a candy stand at noon hours did a lot toward financing the band.

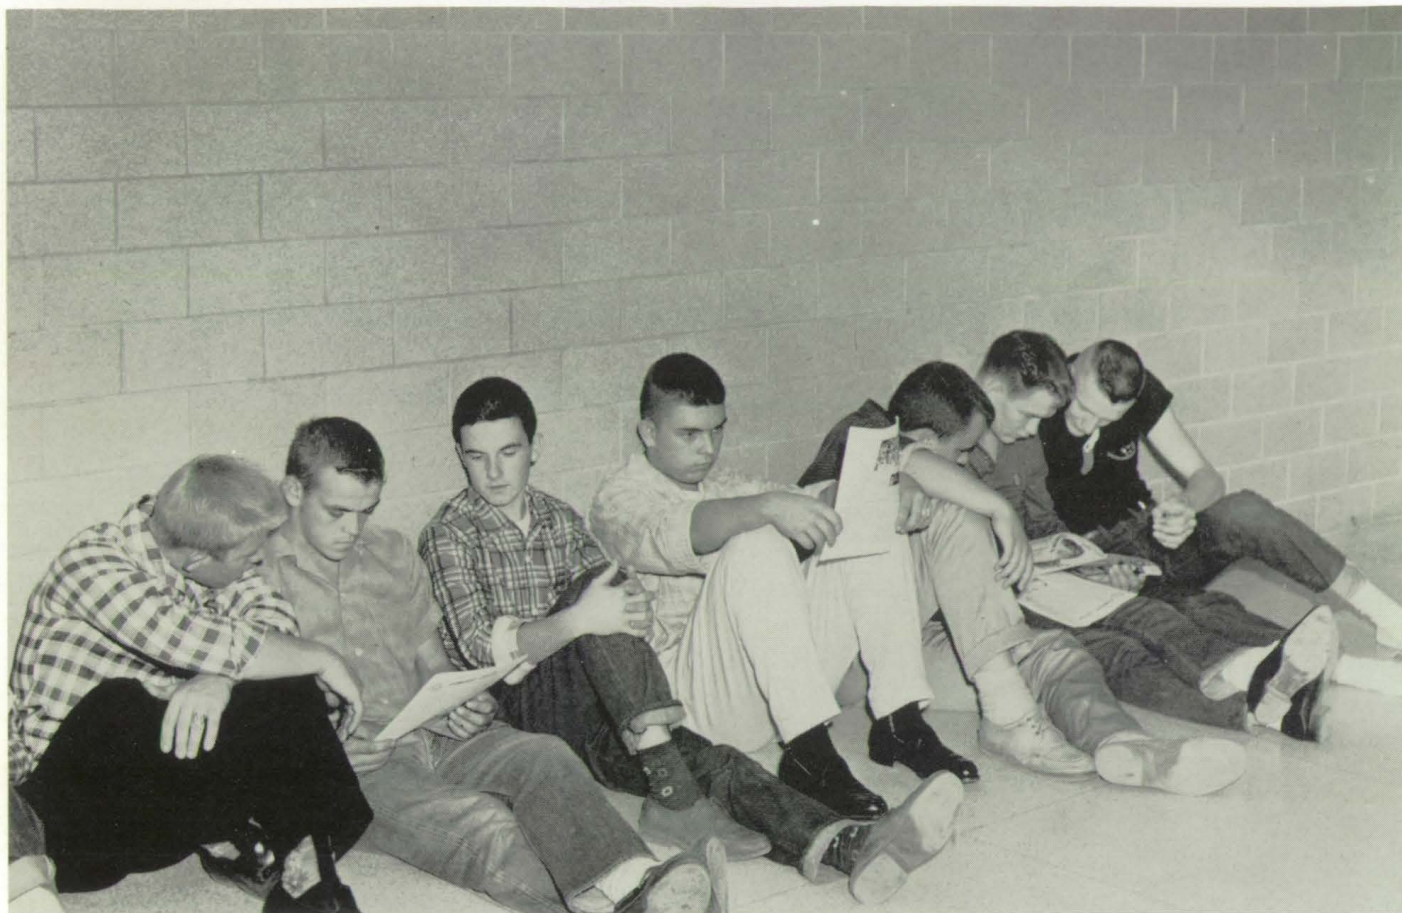

Steady couples find time to chat at the lockers. Shirley Flick and Joe Van Bokkelen could be found here between classes.

Gary Butcher, Patti Park, and Martha Dorsett place questionnaires in the CAMPUS CRIER suggestion box.

Through Reading, Attending and

Heads get together to read the latest news as soon as the CAMPUS CRIER is hot off the press.

A happy time for all was 10 a.m. one morning in late March when school was dismissed because of deep snow.

Ronnie Hastings cuts down his share of the victory nets while his teammates wait excitedly for their turn.

Participating in All Phases of School Life

Bouncing through the year we celebrated commemorative holidays and our own special occasions. Remembering to bring money for the paper, an assembly program, or for that extra large lunch and donating to charities kept us planning the weekly budget.

It was not all fun and play. The nightly homework, six weeks' test, intelligence tests, planning next year's schedule, and for some of us getting the job done for that one special organization was our dedicated task.

By and large it was all for the best because well educated and trained youths make better citizens for tomorrow's America.

Varsity and junior varsity cheerleaders admire their Christmas bulletin board. Before each game they decorated our halls to keep up our basketball spirit.

Liane Hawkins, Sandra Davis, Christine Borders, and Kay Allison model their dresses at the "Fashions to Remember" style show.

Representatives from the Air Force, Marines, Navy, and Army met with the seniors for Armed Forces Day convocation.

Assemblies Both Professional

Jack Turner, 500 race driver, commented, "I feel safer on the Speedway than on the highway."

Reverend Spears, guest speaker, joined the chorus in presenting the Easter program.

Grandview students, under the direction of Miss Webster, presented the Christmas story with a play and songs.

and Amateur Prove Educational and Cultural

"Wonder what it will be about." That was the question that was whispered among the students before each assembly. The student council did a very fine job in the variation of the programs.

Well-known 500 race driver, Jack Turner, stressed the importance of safety on the highway. Local ministers turned our thoughts to our creator on thankful and commemorative occasions. The Indiana State Choir, our school chorus, and the dance band entertained us with pleasant music and increased our appreciation for the finer things in life. Monologues by the speech class and adventures in hypnotism by Mr. Walters revealed the wonders of the mind.

Gary Butcher's monologues brought about requests for an encore.

Bright Sunshine and Spirited Hearts

"Pressing For Victory" ironed out a first place trophy for the eighth grade class.

Contributed to Homecoming Ceremonies

Queen Dennie Niemeier and her attendants Carolyn Thompson, Shirley Flick, and Anita Heshelman reigned regally over the Homecoming Dance.

As tradition rules, dark and threatening skies dampened the hopes that the sun would cast its bright rays upon the Homecoming Parade. Fortune seemed to be with us, however, as the sun came shining through bringing with it a new burst of excitement and anxiety.

School spirit flowed freely in the afternoon as the football players and coaches led the student body in a roaring pep session on the football field. Later school was dismissed and everyone went their way with hopes of victory bouncing in their hearts.

The big half-time show brought thrills—for the first time the queen was crowned on the football field. Although we lost to Turkey Run, everyone soon had smiles on their faces as they watched the queen reign over the Homecoming Dance.

Election of Queens Climax Seasons

Football captain, Ronnie Hastings, crowns football queen, Patti Park, at the dance following the Center Grove game, October 21.

Student Council president, Jim Williams, presents a bouquet of roses to basketball queen, Sue Lugar, at our last home game, February 15, with Avon.

FHA queen, Carol Borders.

Track queen Nina House watches the Mid-State Conference meet held at Washington High School with candidates from Greenwood and Speedway.

Royalty Reigns Over St. Valentine's

Midst the glitter and glow of the "St. Valentine's Royal Ball" on February 11, Donna Rudolph and Bill Armstrong were crowned annual king and queen of 1961.

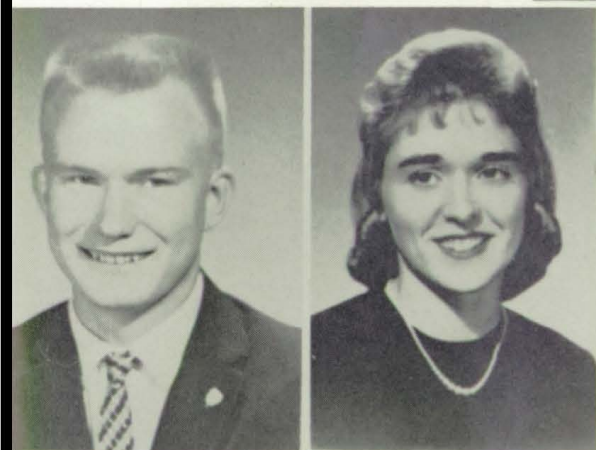

Each class chose a candidate for king and queen. Every student was allowed up to ten votes at a nickel a vote.

Red and white crepe paper changed the gym into a beautiful ballroom. Staff members worked all day transforming it into a place appropriate for a king and queen.

Free cokes were served in the "Cafe of Hearts."

Indiana University Locale for Junior-Senior Prom "Exotica"

Donna Rudolph and Rick Clair were crowned 1961 Prom Queen and King.

The junior class of 1962 went all out to present the seniors with an unforgettable prom May 12, 1961. It was so different that their theme was "Exotica." Locale for this highlight of the year was Indiana University's Student Union building.

Evening gaiety began when all 290 guests gathered in Alumni Hall for the banquet. Master of ceremonies, Tom Sandling, recognized guests and fellow classmen who were primarily responsible for the success of the gala affair.

Dancing in the Frangipani room and crowning of the Prom King and Queen climaxed a wonderful, never-to-be-forgotten evening.

Music by Ted Lang and his band added to the relaxed atmosphere of the evening.

Morry and Kenny Davis, with their dates, take time out from dancing to make plans for the remaining evening.

Safety Week and

Another first at MHS was safety week, starting March 27. Police Sgt. Otha Bishop talked to the juniors and seniors the first day of safety week. Miss Safety Week was chosen and the most courteous boy and girl driver was elected by registered student drivers.

Honor day was observed May 19 by recognizing those students who had worked hard in different departments with awards. Also recognized at this assembly was the graduating seniors.

Honor Day Reward Students' Work

Student Council president, Jim Williams, presents pins to the 12 Student Council members.

Seniors start their long walk to Baccalaureate from the library down to the gym.

Commencement speaker Herb Schowomeyer of Butler University said, "Plan and educate yourself for the future."

Remember the Past but Plan the Future

"Let the ropes of the past ring the bells of the future" brought reminiscing thoughts to the seniors as they approached graduation with this as their class motto. Class colors of gold and white with a yellow rose as their flower symbolized the century of progress.

With the girls dressed in light blue gowns and the boys in dark blue, the seniors marched through their Baccalaureate and Commencement.

The evening passed quickly as the salutatorian, Cheryl McComb, valedictorian, Phil Gibbs, and speaker, Dr. Herb Schwomeyer all dwelled on serving our creator and making the best of our lives. Keeping these thoughts in mind, the graduates marched onto the stage to receive their diplomas from Superintendent Harold N. Bell.

Future plans are discussed at the AAUW tea immediately after Baccalaureate services.

Everyone has a chance to congratulate each senior as they form a semi-circle around the gym after receiving their diplomas.

Students Study the Progress of History

Seniors leisurely await Mr. Tudor's anticipation of the answers to the questions in the government workbooks.

"Progress of a country" leaps from the pages of The Story of America, the junior history book. The students in this class discover how America began and how it has developed and progressed into the country we all know today.

United States Government classes gain a better understanding of the functions of our government and the influence it has upon the lives of us all. This being election year, current events day provided a time when the students could discuss and express the many problems of the people of the world.

The students in the U. S. History class express their views on segregation as a result of the Civil War.

Test Statistics Proved That Advanced

Mr. Parker proves to his Geometry class that the bisector of opposite angles are equal.

Drilling on formulas keeps Mr. Bourn's Algebra class on their toes.

MHS math students showed up well on Educational Progress tests. Test statistics show that 61.5 per cent of our students exceeded test publisher's median percentiles.

Those students who followed up Algebra in their freshman year with Geometry and other advanced courses in succeeding years formed a superior group in math. Of these students, 87 per cent equaled or bettered the median grade. Advanced math has value for all students.

Math Classes Are of Great Value

Discussing different views and methods of working a problem solved many questions for the Algebra II class.

Leroy Selke explains how this General Math problem is worked.

Atomic and Space Developments Have Brought

"Mission accomplished" by Anita Heshelman, Diane Adams, John Altman, and June Sims as they finish making chlorine gas in Chemistry class.

Doug Johnson, Alvin York, and Bill Norris look on as Steve Stockwell makes bromine water.

If you ever smell a strange odor around the school, then just follow your nose and you are sure to end up in the Chemistry Lab. The addition of new equipment in the Lab gives more opportunity for experiments.

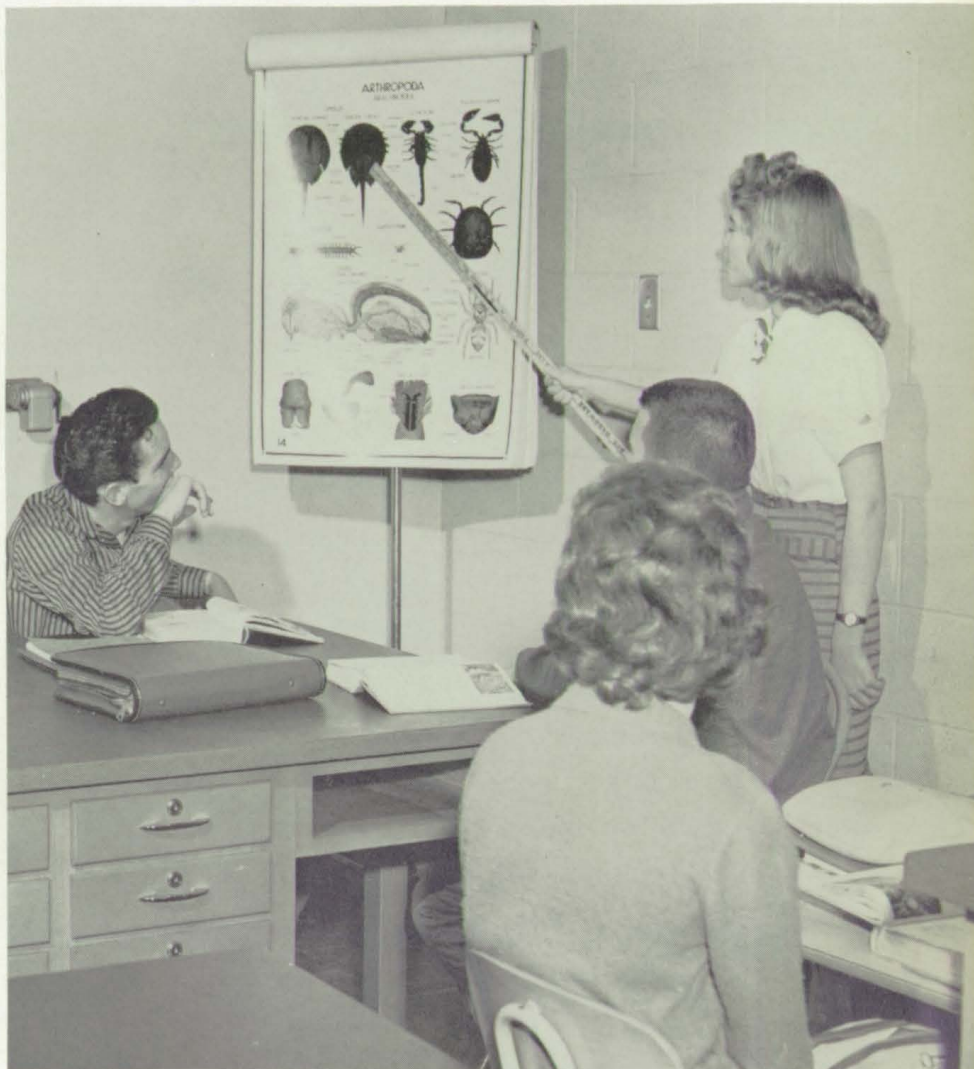

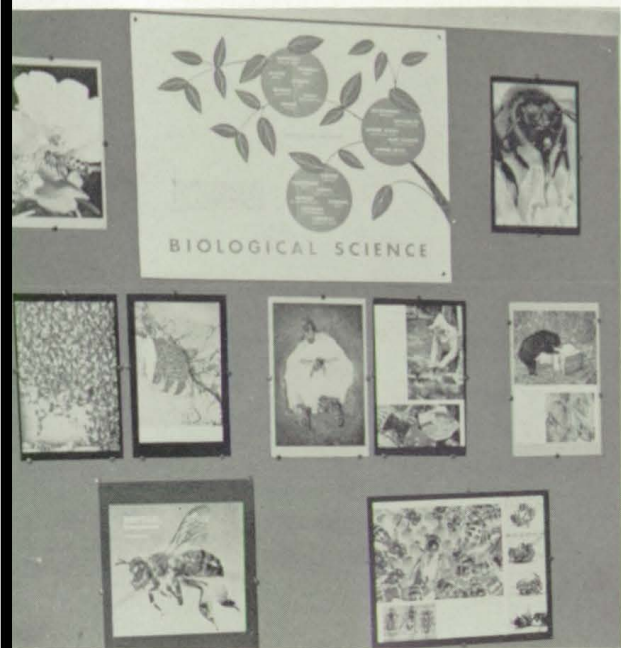

Dissecting and learning the different parts of insects, gathering florae, and studying Mother Nature are all a part of the Biology class. Descriptive bulletin board displays and plant life gives the room biological atmosphere.

Physics students study heat, air, and weight forces. A good background in math is necessary in Physics class.

New Emphasis to All the Science Fields

This display was made in Mr. Sears' Biology class.

Speech Class Performs Monologues Before Student Body

Amy Hadley gives her monologue "Little Mary Entertains a Visitor" at an assembly program.

Mr. Ault explains to his Composition class the parts of a sentence.

Analyzing newspapers was one unit in Journalism.

If you have ever passed a classroom door during second or eighth periods and saw students giving humorous or serious speeches, talking to make-believe people, or just laughing, you more than likely have just passed by the room of one of Mr. Ault's Speech classes. During the first part of the year monologues, pantomimes, and speeches kept the students buzzing. English grammar and composition were stressed the remaining part of the year.

Journalistic techniques, the makeup of a newspaper and what makes interesting reading are only a few of the things taught in Journalism class.

Learn to Express Yourself in Words

How could we get this book done without the knowledge of the English Language. Understanding where to put punctuation, verbs, nouns, adjectives, and other parts of speech can make a lot of difference in the way you express yourself.

People, such as Indians, used to express themselves by sign language. From the twenty-six letters in our alphabet, we are able to express ourselves with words in almost any way we want.

This is what our English teachers teach each day from the grades through the junior year in high school.

Better Understanding of Man Through Foreign Language

Colorful travel posters add to the atmosphere of the Spanish class.

Latin expressions are written on the board by Latin II students.

Traveling to foreign countries is wonderful, especially if you have the knowledge of foreign language. But the primary purpose of foreign language, such as Latin and Spanish, is to get a better understanding of oneself and other people throughout the world.

Latin I, II, and III was taught by Mrs. Richardson; Mrs. Holcomb taught Spanish I.

Girls Gain Experience in Homemaking Class

Homemakers for the future homes of America walk in and out of the Home Economics Department each day. Here they learn cooking, sewing, grooming, child care, home nursing and the many problems they will face when they become wives and mothers. The well-equipped kitchen and sewing room are ideal places for practical experience and training.

"I made it" was the tag these girls wore on their own winter fashions.

Who said we couldn't cook!

This baby didn't cry while being bathed and dressed by Sue Lugar.

"Eyes on the copy! Ready! Type!" These are familiar words to the Typing I class.

Limber fingers and sharp minds are necessary factors for typing classes. The first year typing course stresses the fundamentals of learning the keyboard, watching the copy, speed, and accuracy; while in the second year typing class these factors are put to work. Office practice relates to actual office work and teaches the operation of many business machines.

Keeping records has got us where we are today and these bookkeeping students work out financial records each day. Mrs. Cowen has entered her students in the National Bookkeeping Contest each year and has made very successful showings.

Shorthand enables us to get our spoken English down in a faster way. Both first and second year are offered and interest in this field is constantly growing.

General Business is a course given at the 9th and 10th grade to help students gain an appreciation and understanding of the nature of business and of our economic activities.

Business Classes Prepare Students for Office Work

Buying auto and life insurance are problems which are discussed in the General Business class.

Addition of Metal Shop Adds to Vocational Courses

Steve Wright, Tom Storms, and Randell Parker demonstrate some of the steps that go into the making of a book case.

Industrial arts has been made complete with the addition of the new Metal Shop. The big and shiny machines cover the floor while the smell of scorched oil penetrates the room. To supervise the big operation is a new teacher this year, Mr. McCann.

Next door, Mr. Hall keeps his boys busy with Mechanical Drawing and making their own wood projects. Safety is stressed by the posters around the room and by the safety features on the machines.

Mr. Brown has entered his agriculture students in many County Judging Contests and has taken a number of first places. Those who won a first place division were permitted to participate in the State Judging Contest.

Farming is becoming scientific as these boys in Agriculture test soil.

Art Department "Paints the Town"

Miss Like gives inspiration to her art students.

Yes, they really did! Everyone will remember the different Santas and angels that decorated the parking meters around town. The Art class made 42 Santas.

From water color paintings through black ink paintings they developed posters and produced a very successful gift shop. Items from clay ceramics through crafts were sold.

This Santa design won Beverly Clark $5.

Safety Education Proves Strenuous

"Risking his life" each day, Mr. Forsyth teaches students in Driver Education class how to drive. Each semester Mr. Forsyth has a different group. He gives instructions while they are driving and also basic rules are obtained from the text.

Daily "jumping jack" exercises help keep these boys in Mr. Pennington's physical education class in first-class shape.

Tumbling develops a well-rounded figure.

Administrators

Managing a school growing as rapidly as ours is quite a task. Our administrators have given freely of their time and talents toward building a better school.

A new $250,000 14-classroom addition was made this year to the almost new, one-year old high school building. The ground floor of the new addition was used for Grandview elementary pupils and the second floor was used for high school classrooms.

Record crowds attended our basketball games, music programs and commencement exercises this year.

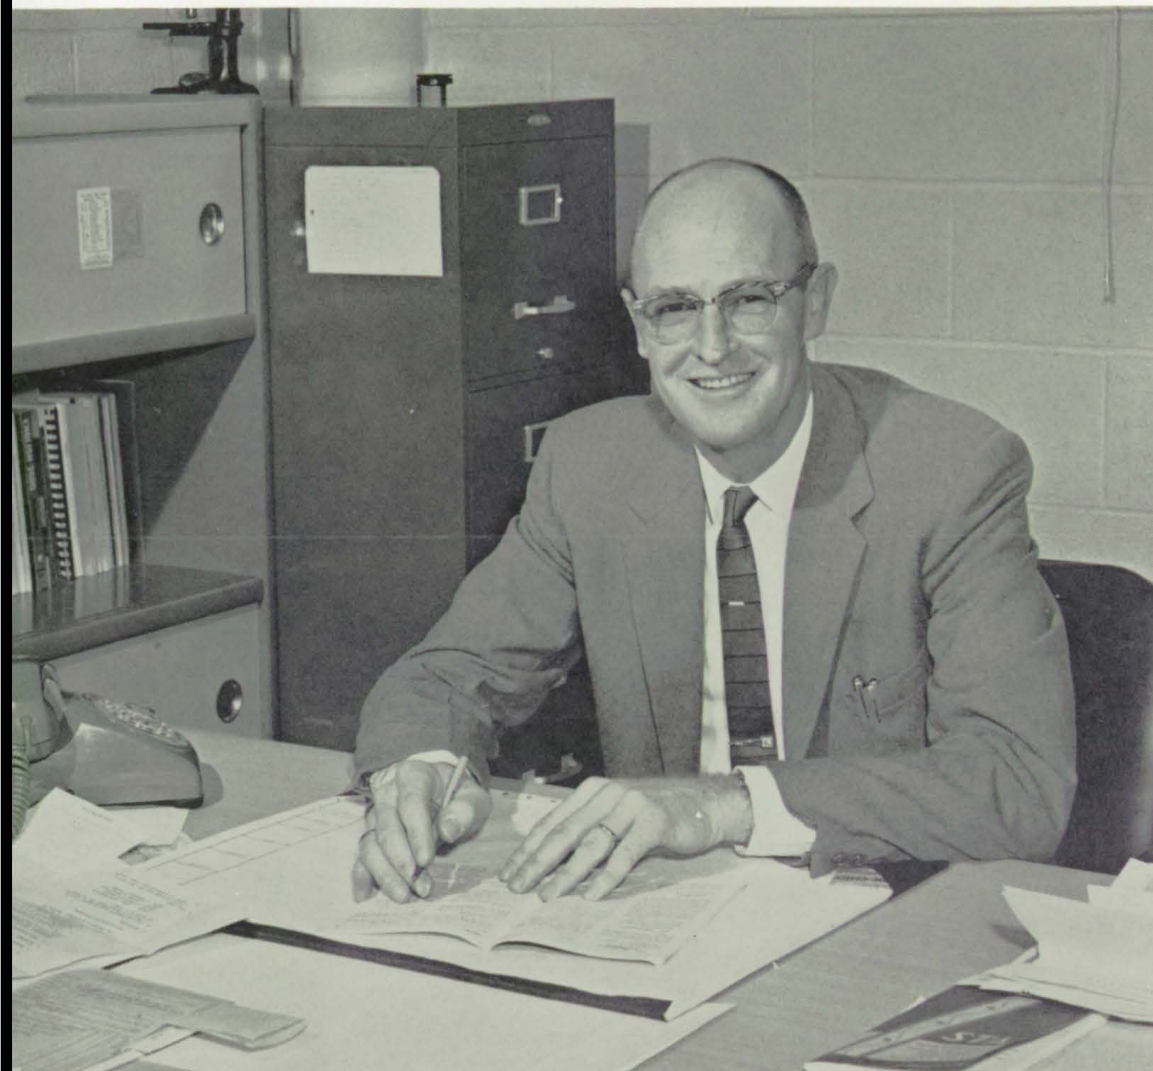

Superintendent Warren Hert supervised our school until Christmas vacation.

Give a Lot of Time to Our School

Principal Kendall Keller served as supervising principal of the Mooresville Consolidated schools January 3 to March 1. Except for this period of time Mr. Keller could be found in his office always available for consultation.

Office secretaries Mrs. Call and Mrs. Montgomery each worked a semester in Principal Keller's office.

Mr. Conrad Galloway was a business teacher the first semester. He served as principal from January 3 to March 1 when he became assistant principal.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS

... in Activities

What would we do without our extracurricular activities? It's a well known fact that participation in extra activities opens the field for better leadership. It was once thought that this was a waste of time, but today we believe it helps develop a student into a more well-rounded individual.

Two of the earliest organizations in Mooresville School were the Quartette and Orchestra. In 1908 two more organizations were added—the Philomathian Literary Society and the Delphian Literary Society. The first annual was published in 1909 and was called the “Senior Annual.”

THE ORCHESTRA OF 1909—SEATED: Chester Stayton, Arthur Cook, Harvey Farmer, Ralph Cook. STANDING: George Cook, Hazel Warren, Fred Keller, Norris Dolen.

Major efforts of twenty-two students are combined within these pages to record the 100th year history of Mooresville schools. Staff members became photographers, writers, salesmen, typists, editors, and interviewers.

They started their coverage on September 10 at the Autograph Dance, and continued their work until the last Senior walked down the aisle at commencement.

More pages have been added to this year's WAGON TRAILS and the hardback cover supplements them with durability. Many hours of hard work have been put into the yearbook plus fun and enjoyment from each member of the staff.

Emphatic Change Helped Sell New Compact

Meeting 18 deadlines per year is the aim of Nina House, Editor, Diane Adams and Tommy Sundling, Assistant Editors, and Mrs. Jackson, Sponsor. Here they view an issue just completed.

Emphatic change helped sell the CAMPUS CRIER this past year. The new multilith machine lent much for the neatness of the paper. In the compact four pages, high school news only is reported, without the space-consuming grade school news, an added pleasure to all high school readers.

The smaller staff made organization more efficient. Each member said they gained much pleasure and satisfaction from a job well done.

A new system was initiated for selecting the editors. An editor serves only one semester with the help of an assistant who becomes editor the following semester. Carol Anders was editor of the paper the first semester and Nina House, the second semester.

Success of the CRIER is dependent upon the reporters, typists, circulation and publicity people. SEATED are Sharon Dye, Mary Jo Kelsey, Sandy Niemeier, Sharon Hamblen, Nancy Via, and Jean Sisk. STANDING are Sandra Davis, Rosemary Lamar, Martha Dorsett, and Kennel Hodge.

Charter members of the newly initiated Ernie Pyle Chapter of Quill & Scroll of Mooresville High School are Archie Adams, Carol Anders, Nina House, and Wilma Willis. Behind them stand five students from Washington High School of Indianapolis, Mrs. Holcomb, and Mr. Jackson, who helped with the first initiation on December 5, 1960. Mrs. Jackson presided as Mistress of Ceremonies.

Campus Crier Run on Multilith Machine

Proud to be standing by the new multilith machine are Multilith Operators Tommy Sundling and Don Adams, and Photographers Morry Davis and Danny Koenig. The CAMPUS CRIER, basketball programs, many different kinds of tickets, different programs, student passes and absentee slips were printed on this new machine.

Student Body Elects President

School spirit soared to its limits during those days of vigorous campaigning for student body president. The Student Council sponsored this campaign and election which was something new for Mooresville students.

The Student Council is not just another organization but the ruling body through which every activity must be cleared. They bought and decorated the school Christmas tree in the hall; they have organized assembly programs for our enjoyment; and they have efficiently supervised all student body elections. The Student Council members made an effort to make new students feel welcome by introducing them to the teachers. They have worked many hours to create a better relationship between the student body and faculty, and between the students and their fellow classmates.

"All those in favor," says President Jim Williams. It looks as if they all are, for the vote is unanimous.

Teachers Select Honor Society Members

Excitement mounts and tension builds when there is news of an Honor Society initiation. Those who have high service character, leadership, and scholarship abilities are considered by the teachers for membership in the Mooresville chapter.

A high point of the year is the Honor Society picnic sponsored for those students who have been on the honor roll each six-weeks period during the year.

The Honor Society also gives baskets of food to needy families at Christmas.

Initiation seems to have been a joy for Valla McComb.

First-semester President Jim Williams gives instructions to the six juniors and six seniors who were initiated on November 9.

“Cheaper By The Dozen” Recalls Childhood

Cheerleader Joe Scales leads the younger Gilbreth children in a cheer. Mr. Gilbreth has just walked in with mother, and it doesn't look like he approves of the idea.

Eleven days of heavy practice helped the Seniors to put on an exceptional performance of a play adapted from the book CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN. It provided two and one-half hours of comedy and recollection of the “gay 20's” for the audience.

Mr. Gilbreth has just blown the whistle for the children to assemble themselves. It could just be that they may be setting a new record.

Juniors Initiate New Gym for Play

Junior play cast members took on quite a challenge when they decided to present their play in the new gymnasium. The lack of a fixed stage with curtains and all the conveniences created many problems. Setting for the mystery comedy was a hotel gift shop. "Stranger in the Night" began promptly at 8:03 on April 7th.

In the foreground are three of the cast members on stage, but the others are behind stage awaiting their cue.

Sylvia Lee, played by Sandy Corcoran, is manager of the gift shop and it appears as if Danny Koenig as Grant Terry is sure giving her some sweet talk.

Male Voices Improve Quality of Chorus and

David McPhee, Jim Williams, Don Adams, and Danny Koenig harmonize in barbershop quartet fashion.

Eighth period chorus creates a high plateau of exuberancy for chorus students. After a day full of classes, singing does much to take away their tension and make them more alert.

More male voices in the chorus this year added quality to the tenor and bass sections. They also made possible many different ensemble groups. Many favorable comments have been heard about the Boys' Barbershop Quartet and the Madrigals, which are new groups. Also commanding number one ratings were the Senior Trio, Junior Sextette and the Boys' Octette.

At the District Contest the Mooresville vocalists captured nine firsts, seven seconds, and a third. Those receiving a first were eligible to compete in the State contest. At the state contest eight firsts and one second place ratings were won.

Soloists and those singing in duets won six first place and one second place ribbons at the state contest. Danny Koenig, Kay Allison, Shirley Flick, Janice Grinstead, Janet Jones, Rosemary Lamar, and David McPhee.

GIRLS' GLEE CLUB—C. Burnside, S. Dolson, D. Godsey, C. Andrews, J. Swinney, S. Stewart, W. Perry, C. Willoughby, B. Giffin, Miss Webster. ROW 2: J. Beasley, G. Smith, N. Richardson, M. Warriner, T. # Help Win Eight Firsts at State Contest

In addition to winning a first at the state contest, the Madrigals have made many personal appearances. Their musical numbers are like those of the Madrigal singers of the fourteenth century. Jim Williams, Sandra Davis, David McPhee, Janice Grinstead, Don Adams, Rosemary Lamar, Danny Koenig, Kay Allison, Archie Adams, and Sue Ann Behrman are the chosen ten.

Practice makes perfect and as much as these girls like to sing they find it easy to practice. They also must be nearly perfect, for the judges awarded them a first at the state contest. Sandra Davis, Kay Allison, and Rosemary Lamar form the Senior Trio.

"There's music in the air." Yes, and the music is pleasing to the ear, for no wrong note can be heard. For long and tedious hours the band has been practicing for their performance. The band provided entertainment between halves at the Football and Basketball games, at pep sessions, and gave two annual concerts.

Long hours of proper practice contributed to the band's winning nine first place ratings at the District Music Festival in DePauw on February 4. Firsts in ensembles were the brass sextette, saxophone quartette, and the flute duet. Soloists winning firsts were Tom Hilliker, Sue Stockwell, Jeff Fenimore, Terry Fenimore, Nancy Via and Carl Cowen.

Under the guidance of band director Mr. Patchett, fourteen members of the band formed a dance band. Even though they organized late in the year, they were asked to play for many school engagements. Most members of the student body think that our dance band is the best around.

MAJORETTES—Sharon Fields and Karen Keck.

"Dance Band Is the Best Around"

FLUTES: C. Dale, L. Chambers. TROMBONES: D. Koenig, J. Clark, J. Marsh. BARITONE: N. Via. TUBAS: C. Cowen, G. Haymaker. PERCUSSION: D. Greene, M. Western, J. Sisk, D. Butler.

Cheer Block Organizes Into Club

"The best anywhere around here!"
—Comments like this have been heard frequently about our cheer block this past year. For the first time the cheer block organized into a club and elected officers. They sold candy at the beginning of the year to raise money for pennants, shakers and other attractions to make their cheer block more effective. They have done much to add to the enthusiasm of the fans and team during the games.

Gymnastics such as this were seen often during the football and basketball games this past year. Showing tremendous enthusiasm the girls doing the job were LuRhe Hawkins on the floor, Sandra Davis and Sue Lugar standing, and Anita Heshelman on top.

In formation and ready for action are the cheerleaders, sponsors, and the cheer block.

Athletic Interest Strengthened by Clubs

Four minutes to play and the score is 24-21. Excitement builds as the game continues. The G.A.A. girls are participating in their weekly session of recreation. The Girls' Athletic Association provides an hour of recreation each Friday after school for its members. Soccer, volleyball, basketball, and baseball are a few of the sports they participate in.

"Buy your ice cream here!" was familiarly heard from any letterman selling ice cream during the basketball games. All major lettermen and their guests enjoyed a picnic from the funds raised at these games. This was a time of pure enjoyment for the boys and their coaches after the gruelling training of the year.

FHA and FFA Strive to Be Honor Chapters

Striving to be an honor chapter was the main goal of the FHA this past year. One of our girls was nominated for district vice-president, an honor indeed.

A chili supper and semi-formal dance were two of the activities sponsored by the girls during the year. In work or play the girls find pleasure in working to be good future homemakers.

FHA—Miss Hansert, C. McElwain, C. Matthews, M. Warriner, S. Altman, C. Borders, W. Willis, P. Park, R. Lamar. ROW 2: B. Noble, N. House, C. Borders, J. Boyd, W. Perry, J. Burke, J. Robinson, C. "Pioneer's Delight" was the theme of the chili supper sponsored by the FHA.

Seeing an FFA member walking toward you with some various article is not surprising, for he is trying to sell it to you. Wrenches, screwdrivers, and battery cables are just a few of the items sold to raise money for an educational trip at the close of school.

The Future Farmers of America is an organization for farm boys enrolled in Vocational Agriculture classes. They carried out this purpose in their display in the Public Service building for National FFA week.

Liberal Arts Clubs Enrich Classroom Study

"Como esta usted?" is a familiar expression heard by students in Spanish Club. Games, songs, and movies help the Latin and Spanish Club members to better understand the culture of the people who speak the language they are studying.

LATIN CLUB—Members and their sponsor Mrs. Richardson hold an annual Roman Banquet.

SPANISH CLUB—Mrs. Holcomb, M. Casey, P. Reedy, S. Stewart, B. Ratliff, A. Hadley, R. Spoon. ROW 2: T. Broadstreet, K. Miller, N. House, D. Adams, J. Burke, R. Park, D. Short, K. Hodge. ROW 3: T. Hilliker, D. Johnson, G. Day, R. Antrim, J. DeBoor, B. Briedenbaugh, B. Davis, J. Pratt.

Accidents are relatively uncommon, but excitement does occur during the Science Club meetings. Chemistry and Physics students perform experiments pertaining to both fields of science. These meetings supplement the classroom study.

Janitors, Cooks, and Student Help Are

LIBRARY HELP—Miss Dreiman, J. Tompkins, K. Humphrey, J. Sims, E. Berney, S. Leonard, K. Miller, S. Breedlove, J. McCracken.

Paste, water, tape, and electric pencil are just a few of the articles these students work with in preparing new books and fixing the old ones. They spend their study hall periods helping Miss Dreiman with the Library work.

Shocking remarks from innocent minds gave reasons for much laughter to these girls after being "teacher" for a day. Those students who plan to teach after college days are o'er have an opportunity to see what teaching is really like.

STUDENT TEACHERS—K. Allison, W. Willis, C. McElwain, C. McComb. ROW 2: S. Davis, L. Williams, B. Noble, J. Burke, N. House, S. Hamblen, A. Hadley.

"Fast walking" is an asset for those girls who spend their study halls working in the office. They run many errands and do any general work asked of them during this hour.

OFFICE HELP—E. Richardson, C. Littell, A. Heshelman, S. Meredith, S. Hamblen. ROW 2: M. Weddle, S. Dye, S. Carter, G. Gregory, S. Breedlove, M. Dorsett, M. Haymaker, C. McElwain.

Essential to Functions of the School

STUDENT CUSTODIAN—Bill Shortt. CUSTODIANS—Kenny Fields, Roy Blanton, John Downey.

Arriving early in the morning, the janitors were here until late in the evening attending to our needs. They performed jobs in "keeping school" that Mother would not even attempt in "keeping house." Pulling bleachers out for the ballgames, setting up chairs for assemblies, and being general handy men are other jobs performed by the janitors.

All the food their stomachs can hold plus 25c per day is what these students receive for spending their lunch hours working in the cafeteria. They endure hot steam tables, many complaints, and the ordeal of serving mashed potatoes for those free meals.

Yes, the cafeteria helpers keep their tempers through all of this, but more surprising is the patience the cooks have for their helpers. Also, with patience, they cook delicious and well-balanced meals which receive favorable comments from both teachers and students.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS

... in Sports

From the slow sharp-shooting game of yesterday, basketball has progressed into the fast craze of "Hoosier Hysteria."

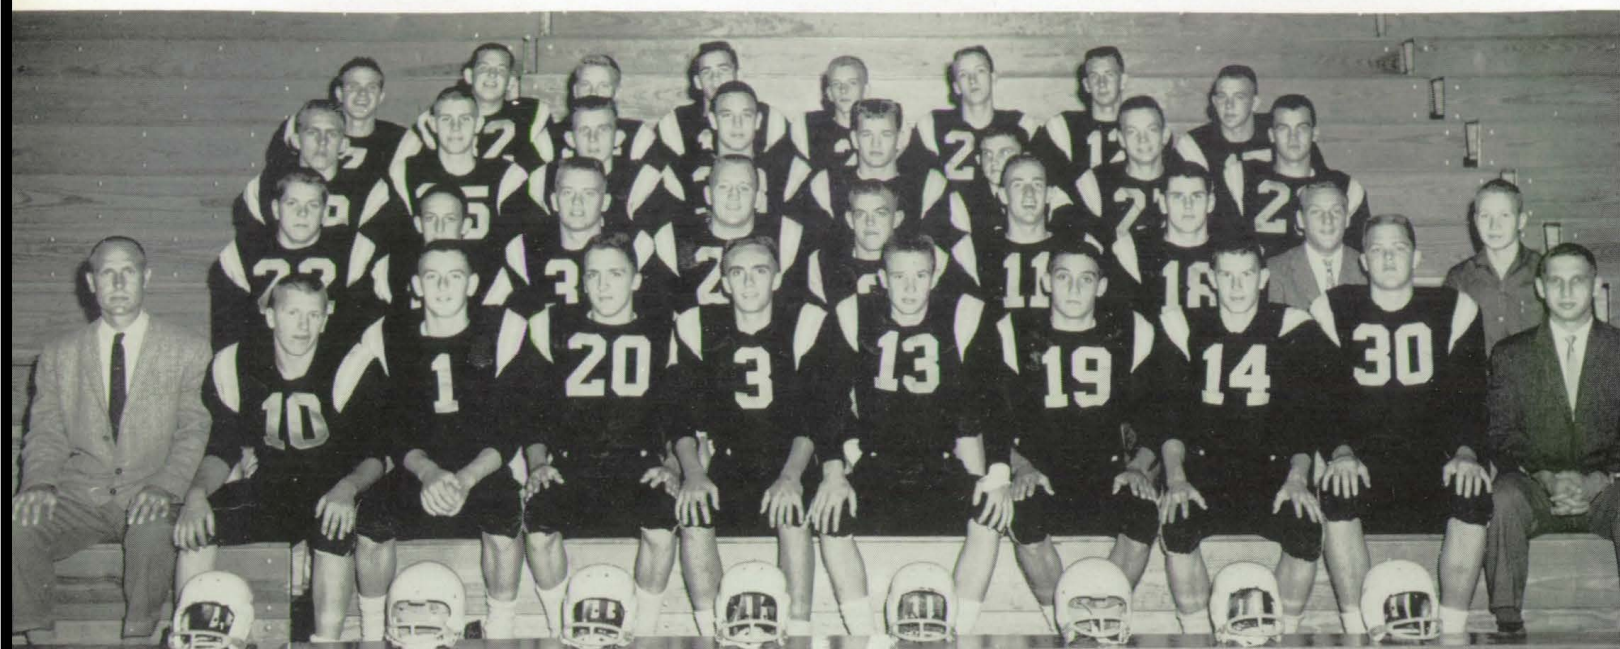

The first basketball team of 1908-09, pictured below, had a 7-6 record compared with this year's record of 6-15 and the capturing of the County Tournament.

In 1909 they thought athletics had a place in school life. A half century has passed but we still believe as firmly as ever that sports belong to school life.

Team Has Tough Season But Player Named to Mid-State Team

After defeating Jasonville in their first game by the score of 40-0, the Pioneers were unable to win another game, finishing the season with a disappointing 1-9 record.

The 40-point total achieved in the Jasonville game, however, was the second highest score ever tallied by the Blue and Gold in their 14-year history of revived football. The only score to surpass the Jasonville performance was the 56-0 triumph in the 1956 opener against Center Grove.

In the Brownsburg and Decatur Central games, the Pioneer boys piled up more yardage than their opponents, but they couldn't score enough, suffering defeats of 22-19 and 13-6, respectively.

Despite the Pioneers' winless Mid-State Conference record, Ron Hastings was named to the All-Mid-State Conference team, at a guard position.

Rick Clair eludes a would-be Edinburg tackler, for a long gain, while an unidentified teammate lays a key block.

Freshman Team Has Potential for Next Year's Varsity Eleven

Cliff Allen and Joe Robinson move in to help Larry Short, while he tries to shake off two Turkey Run tacklers.

Junior Varsity and Freshman football teams had a combined record of three wins and four losses in the 1960-61 season.

Junior Varsity defeated Danville and Edinburg by the scores of 12-0 and 20-0 respectively, while losing to Greenwood, University and Decatur Central.

The Freshmen trounced Martinsville by the score of 46-6, and they were barely beaten by Brownsburg.

Although the Freshmen only played two games, most of them saw a lot of action in the Junior Varsity games.

Cliff Allen is stopped after a long gain against Edinburg.

The Pioneers, however, trounced Decatur Central earlier in the season, 48-23. The Pioneers also won the Freshman Mid-State Conference tourney at Center Grove, beating Brownsburg, Greenwood, and Center Grove in tourney play.

Ringling of the old school bell in 1861 told the students that they now had the opportunity to go ahead in education. Seventy-eight pupils attended the first school, consisting of a two-room building and taught by two teachers.

As was expected, enrollment grew rapidly and 50 years later, 1911, there were 93 students enrolled in the high school at Mooresville.

In 1961, 2,292 students were enrolled in the consolidation at the end of the first six-weeks' grading period. 517 of these were high school students and 442 were junior high students.

Grades 7-12 in 1891.

Ninety-one seniors become the 77th graduating class of Mooresville High School.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS
... in Junior High

"You go your way and we will go ours." Since the high school has been separated from the junior high, they have set up their own student government.

The junior high Student Council is very active and promotes many school functions. This year saw a very fine staff publish the first junior high paper, PIONEER PATHWAYS. Social life is much like that of the high school with ball games, class parties, dances, and plays.

A tremendous increase in the population of Mooresville has the junior high buildings already overcrowded. The 100 year old academy building was used for junior high classes this year because of the growth in student population.

CENTURY OF PROGRESS

. . . in Your Town

In 1824, Samuel Moore founded the town of Mooresville. He had been operating a trading store in this area and drew many white people and Indians from many miles. By 1826 the Indians fulfilled the terms of their contract with the Government and moved on.

The town grew rapidly and by 1832 its population reached 200. Mooresville received its first serious setback in 1842, when a disastrous fire raged through the town leaving only one store and one dwelling house, both of which were owned by Samuel Moore. Work of reconstruction was started immediately and the town was soon resplendent with the new homes and stores virtually reared out of the ashes.

Business seemed to pour into Mooresville and in 1872 a savings bank was established to meet the demands of increased business. A year later it was named the Farmers Bank and boasted a capital of $30,000. The building of the Indianapolis and Martinsville traction line in 1903 started a "boom" that raised Mooresville from a town of 900 to a thriving little city of approximately 1,800 within two years.

This year, 1961, Mooresville covered an area of approximately 1,450 acres and had an approximate population of 4,000 with some 200 business establishments.
