Our Pillars of Education at MHS

The doors of MHS opened to 743 students on September 10, 1963. Arriving by bus, car, and individual effort, they walked through 836 yards of halls, climbed 63 stair steps, and used 896 lockers, 32 classrooms, and approximately 5000 books. They studied in 7 main scholastic fields, instructed by 43 teachers, in 170 separate classes. With an opportunity to participate in 6 sports, athletes had times of joy and disappointment, while 16 rousing pep sessions and 10 enjoyable soc hops provided activity for the remaining scholars.

Four queens, 2 kings, and 1 princess entered the circle of Royalty at MHS during the '63-'64 school year. Shared by the student body were 19 organizations, which boasted 465 members and 8 special events. With a zest for free days during the I.S.T.A. session, Thanksgiving and Christmas vacations, the students hurried to make ready for Easter, the Prom, and graduation, which came shortly after. Collectors of knowledge, friends, and fun, students at MHS kept pace with the ever increasing demands on youth, and grew a little wiser, a little taller, a little stronger, because of their

We See Many Phases of School Life

This display from the English department is just one of many which were shown in the main hall to inform students about all the fields of study at MHS.

Several teachers get into the act during the Homecoming Parade, some organize a float as these have, and others ride in cars with the clubs they sponsor.

in Our Activities Through the Year.

Many events take place during a school year. Some are happy, some are sad, some bring joy, but all are building blocks to a student's personality and character. The tears of joy when a young girl is announced queen, the tears of sadness when a closely-fought game is lost. Homecoming is the first big event of the year, with classes building floats and choosing a queen and princess, the band leading the big parade, and the football team battling on the gridiron. At Christmas time, the CAMPUS CRIER sponsors a dance, with the dance band usually providing the music. Not to be forgotten are the many organizations which are active all year. Another important factor is study, which might get more praise from the students if it was dropped. The Junior Prom is eagerly awaited, with Baccalaureate and Commencement following to send a new group of graduates into the world.

Soc-hops sponsored by the Seniors after ball games gave times for relaxation.

There were many happy faces when the Juniors' class rings were delivered. Some of the Juniors are showing their rings to a new student.

The Junior class float "floats" by to a victory while Sharon Montgomery relaxes as Cleopatra under the protection of slaves and guards.

Juniors' "Float"

Wonderful weather highlighted the magnificent floats, cars and people in this year's Homecoming activities.

In the traditional fashion, each class toiled many hours to bring together ideas, materials and work into a beautiful, colorful float to enter the Homecoming parade and float contest. First prize was won by the Juniors. The Seniors took second place, and the Freshmen were close behind in third position.

Crowned Homecoming Queen for 1963 was Beverly Johnson. Connie Stevens was crowned Homecoming Princess. Co-Captains of the football team John Wood and Steve Tackitt did the honors of crowning the royalty.

The day's activities were ended with the Homecoming dance over which the queen and princess reigned.

Dances Bring Royalty to MHS and

King and queen candidates Steve Tackitt, Linda George, Ken Hicks, Jeanne Pugh, Larry Sawyer, Jayne Haymaker, Tom Hicks, and Sandy Reed await the announcement of the royalty of the CAMPUS CRIER Christmas Dance.

At the half-time of the Homecoming Game, Senior Beverly Johnson was crowned Homecoming Queen of 1963. That was October 4. Seven months and six days later, May 10, her good friend, Margie Hribar was crowned Prom Queen of 1964. The crowning of these girls opened and closed the year of royalty at MHS. There were tears of joy and moments of sorrow, but the beautiful queens and their courts brought the air of majesty to our school.

In December, at the CAMPUS CRIER Christmas Dance, Senior Linda George was crowned queen, and Steve Tackitt, also a senior, was proclaimed king of the dance.

At the annual F.H.A. Dance in April, Senior Sarah Gibbs was crowned by last year's queen Melinda Warri-ner. The Prom was the only dance after that.

Debbie Medsker models her self-made clothing at the style show.

Spring Style Show Sets Fashions

Some of the outfits made for the style show are shown here.

The style show was again presented to the girls at MHS by those girls who, in Home Economics this year, had made clothing. The show was held in the gym about a week before the end of school, as is the custom.

Many dresses and suits were presented for the approval of classmates, and the show was well enjoyed, as usual.

Some cool summer outfits of Bermudas and blouses were shown along with the more dressy suits and combinations. Some nightgowns were displayed as well.

Shirley Carter explained the clothing as each girl modeled hers.

Cindy Hite and Linda George are displaying their clothing while Shirley Carter explains the costumes.

"Musical Varieties of '64" Is Largest Yet;

"Straw Boss" Linda Miller is instructing workers J. Haymaker, F. Loomis, J. Marshall, J. Cable, J. Malott, V. Fields, J. Barlow, M. Marksberry, S. Venable, J. McConnell, L. Smith, S. Fields, S. Gunnell, M. Hribar, J. Allen, and C. Barlow in the proper way to build houses during the Variety Show.

Thrills Capacity Crowds

Down came the mallets on the tympani, sending a booming roll across the gym, the M.C. made a short announcement, and the "Musical Varieties of '64" were on their way.

The spring show presented by the band this year was the biggest yet, with over 70 musicians providing a background for the dances of more than 20 charming girls. There were arc lights, flood lights, floor lights, and stand lights to illuminate the costumes and music of the performers.

Much time and effort went into the show. The band practiced every day during band period, the girls danced after school and at night, and the dress rehearsal was long and hard.

Choreographed by Margie Hriber, the dances ranged from an exciting jungle beat to the Broadway chorus line style.

Jeff Fenimore, senior bandsman, was the M.C. for the show. His short explanations of the upcoming numbers gave prop hands time to change the scenery.

The dance band entertained in the middle section of the show, which gave the other band members a chance to rest and also provided a greater variety in sound to the show.

Each performer, listener, and worker will remember the "Musical Varieties of '64" for a long time.

J. Cable, F. Loomis, S. Venable, M. Hribar, V. Fields, J. Allen, and L. Smith have just finished a dance routine during practice for the Variety Show. Many hours of hard work went into the show again this year.

Institutes Provide Summer Training and

These seniors went to various institutes last summer. They are: Dennie Niemeier, Claude Willis, Margie Hribar, Rick VanBokkelen, Jeff Fenimore, John Wood, and Bev Johnson.

Last summer several students from MHS journeyed to different colleges to participate in a training institute. Most of them were held at Indiana University. Others were at Indiana State College.

John Wood and Rick VanBokkelen were the first to receive instruction. They went to Boys' State at I. U. early in the summer. Next Peggy Truax and Margie Hribar attended the Journalism Institute for school newspapers. The session on yearbook instruction had delegates Dennie Niemeier and Jeff Fenimore at I.U. for two weeks work. Bev Johnson and Claude Willis went to the Student council institute to learn student government.

Several girls from F.H.A. attended an institute at I.S.C., in which they learned how to have a better organization. Those going were Alice Overton, Patty Park, Barbara Cable, Cheryl Beasley, Sherry Morley, Laraine Dolen, and Ginni House.

Juniors Present "Serenade in Blue" Prom

Prom King and Queen candidates Kenny Fisher, Sarah Gibbs, Sandy Swinney, Mike Warriner, Bill Knapp, Margi Hribar, Jackie Allen, and Steve Remster are awaiting Mr. Smith's announcement naming the king and queen.

Shown here are a few of the tables surrounded by happy couples at the Prom.

Enjoyed By All at I.S.T.A. Building

The Junior-Senior Prom, "Serenade in Blue," will be long remembered by all who attended. It was held in the ballroom of the I.S.T.A. Building from 9 to 12 p.m. on Friday, May 8.

Seniors Margie Hribar and Steve Remster were crowned queen and king by Mr. Ned Smith, Assistant Superintendent.

The music was provided by Bob Tennyson and his Orchestra, who played on a blue net and paper decorated bandstand.

Twenty sophomores served punch and cookies and helped in anything they could.

There was a Post-Prom from 1 to 4 a.m., held in the high school gym. Jack Kelly, a d.j. from Indianapolis, played records and gave away prizes in drawings. Hot dogs, baked beans, and cokes made up the main course for the Post-Prom. The dress and atmosphere was more informal, and a good time was had by all.

Prom Queen Margie Hribar is being crowned by Mr. Ned Smith.

Baccalaureate and Commencement Bring Tears

Here some parents are entering the gym for Commencement.

Shirley Carter, Salutatorian, is giving her Commencement address.

One hundred and twenty-two young boys and girls were changed to young men and women on Thursday, May 28, 1964, at MHS. These were the graduating class of 1964, finishing 12 years of hard work and fun in grade, junior high, and high school. Each of these people has grown physically, mentally, and emotionally in the past 12 years. They have found new friends, lost old ones, and met many people just in passing. This group will be a part of tomorrow's leaders. They will become lawyers, farmers, doctors, businessmen, and all will play a part in the future of the world.

The Reverend Don Endsley was the main speaker at the Baccalaureate service on Sunday, May 24.

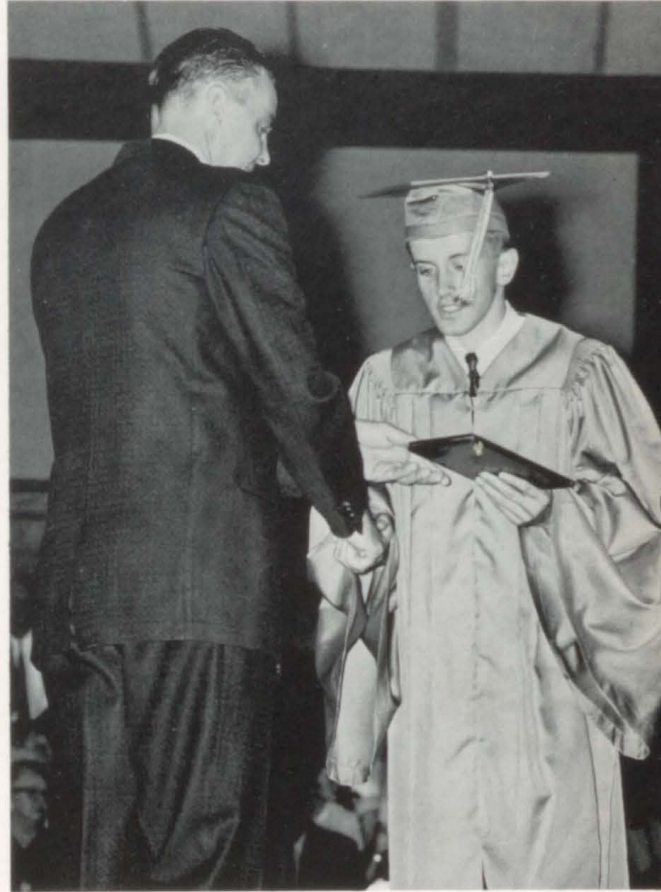

The main speaker for Commencement was Reverend James Armstrong of the Broadway Methodist Church in Indianapolis.

Math Courses Offer Challenge to Find

Jeff Fenimore listens as Mr. Johnson dictates a Solid Geometry problem.

General Mathematics students know the answer to Mr. Lind's question on decimals.

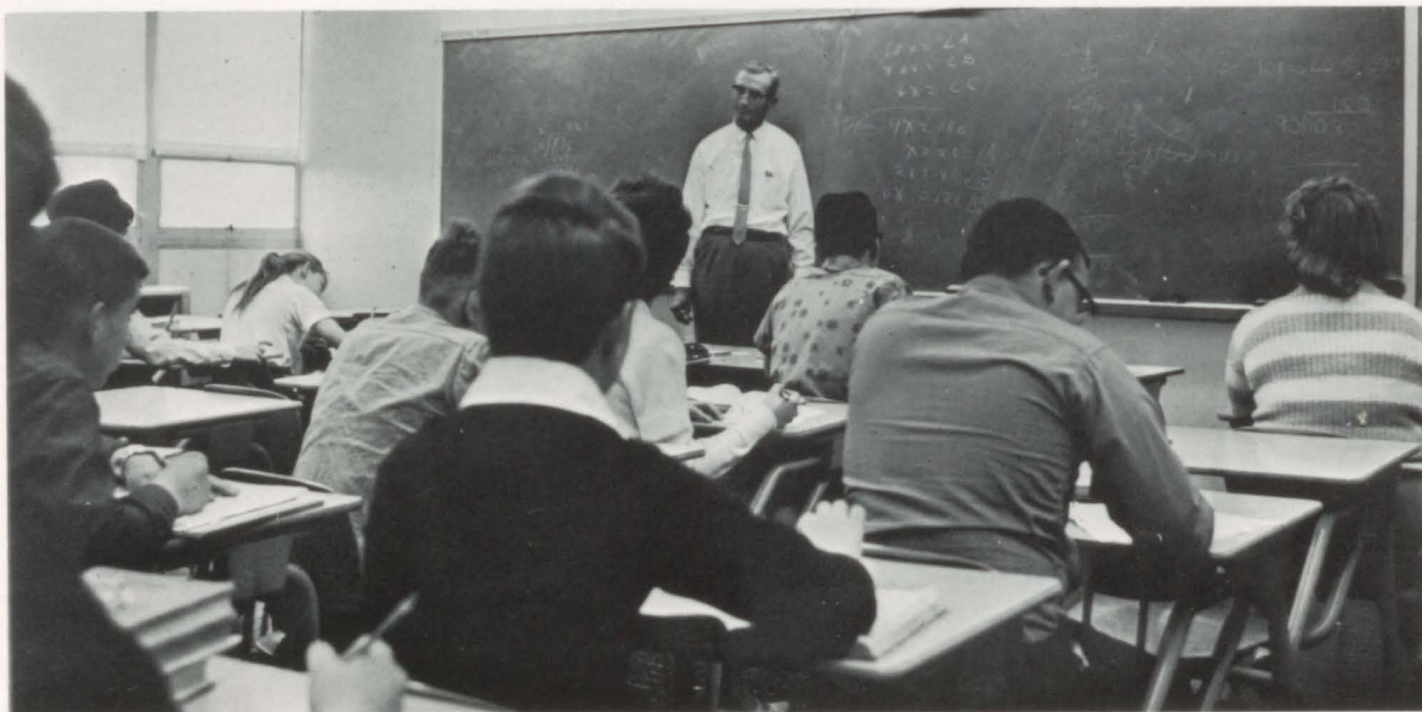

MHS took pride in its highly rated Mathematics department. Qualified teachers put forth their very best to insure the proper training of Mooresville students.

A large variety of Math was offered at MHS. General Mathematics, an advanced arithmetic course, as well as Algebra I, a form of higher Mathematics was offered to freshmen.

Second year Math students were offered Geometry, a study of figures, angles and points on a plane.

Unknown Answers by Using Mathematical Procedures

Mr. Parker finishes an Algebraic problem on the board.

Algebra II, another form of higher Math makes use of formulas and complicated equations while Trigonometry and Geometry advance into use of applications of measurements and logarithms plus the study of points, figures, and lines with depth.

A new member in the Mathematics department, Mrs. Stacy, assists Mr. Johnson, Mr. Lind, and Mr. Parker in the training of students in the challenging world of Mathematics.

Bill Roberson uses a compass to work out a problem in Plane Geometry.

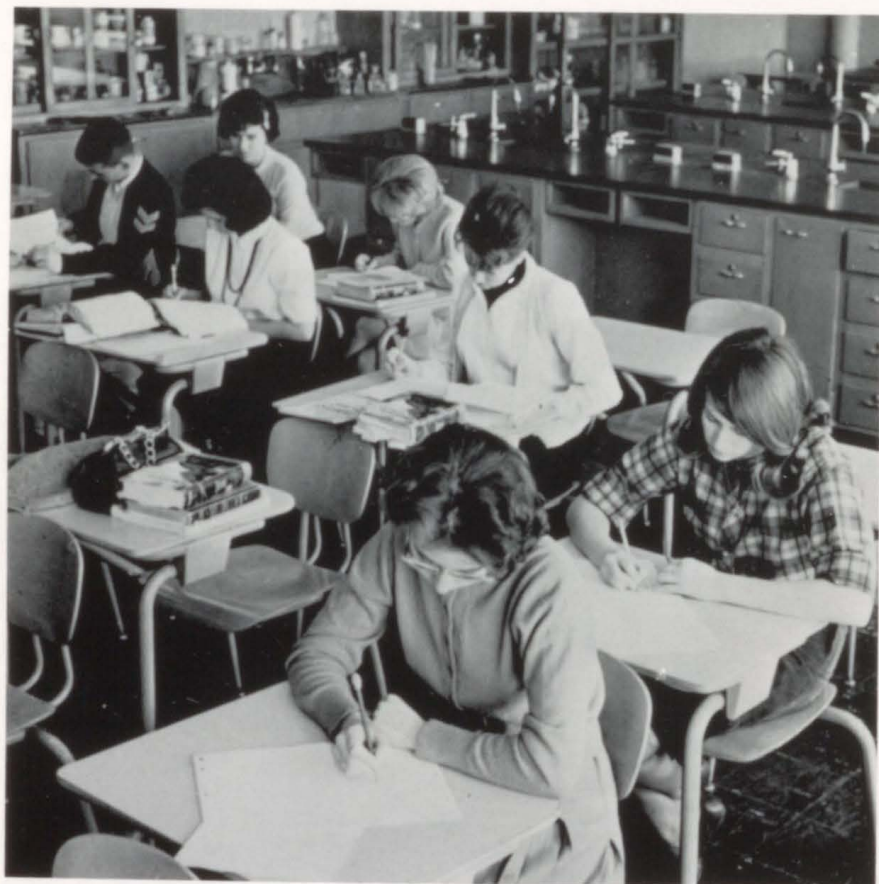

Physical Science students practice using the Metric System.

Pupils Explore Mysteries of Our World

Working Chemistry problems takes concentration and knowledge.

The secrets of the universe were unfolded to any curious students who delved into the mysteries of science. In this modern world, the discoveries of scientists play an increasingly important role.

MHS began unlocking the door to these secrets when students were still freshmen. Biology investigates the mysteries of life itself from the simplest amoeba to the most complex animal—man.

As sophomores, pupils received a basic understanding of the significance of science in everyday life. Later, when they are upperclassmen, students delved more deeply into this subject in their Chemistry and Physics classes.

The Chemistry lab, filled with bubbling acids and suffocating odors, challenged young chemists into exploring the meaning of terms such as "valence," "atomic weight," and "electron."

Fundamental laws of nature effect everything we do. Seniors in Physics class discussed these laws and forces.

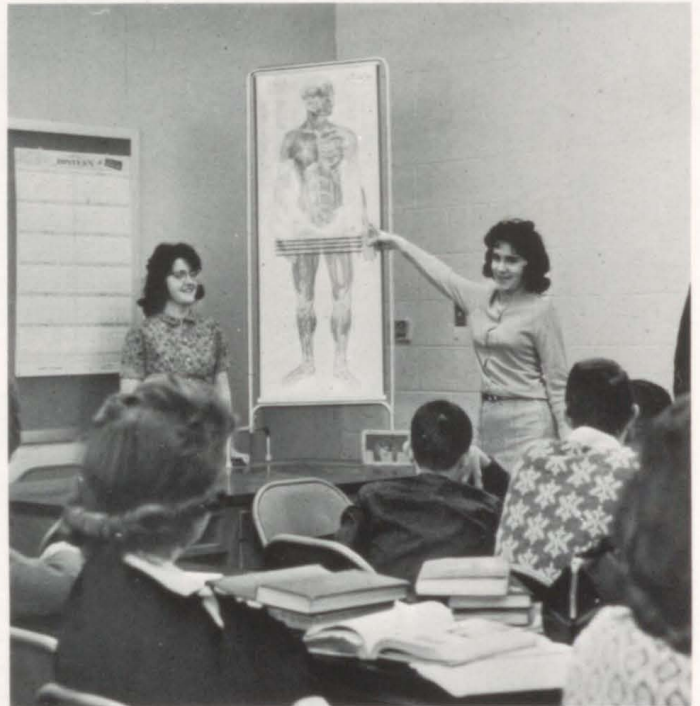

Mrs. Mitchel helps Jackie Chambers with a problem.

to Gain Much Needed Scientific Knowledge

Claude Willis and Sara Gibbs test for radio activity.

Norma Dorsett and Margaret McKinney explain anatomy as part of their Biology class.

Study of World's People and

Mrs. Wooden appears amused at one of the answers from her World History students.

Jackie Allen, Janice Townsend and Linda Smith listen to Mr. Carter in Social Problems class as he explains the definition of monogamy concerning marriage.

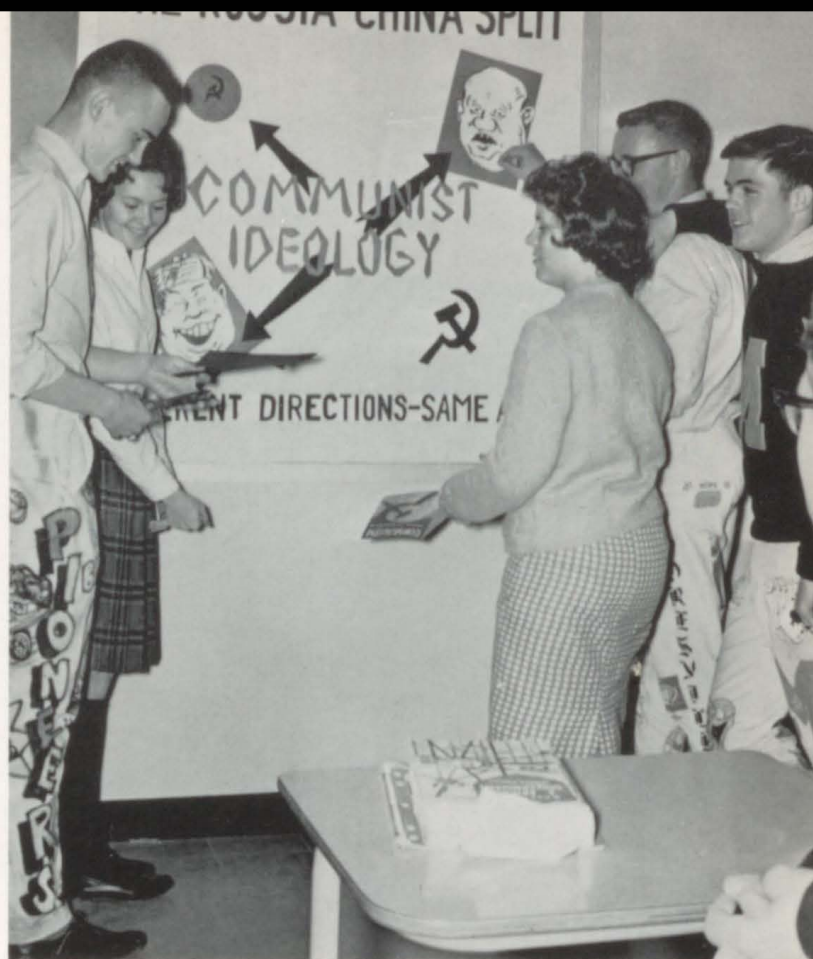

Mr. Carter prepares to ask a question to his all boy Civics class.

Gail Adams points out the New England states in U.S. History class.

Government students prepare a bulletin board for class.

Places Interests Students

Social Studies classes at MHS help provide students with practical experience and information about our government, history, and culture.

Three courses: Civics, U.S. History, and Government, are required while the others are elective.

Freshman Civics classes study the basic structure of our government and the duties, rights, and responsibilities of good citizens.

Many sophomores and some upperclassmen elect to take World History and study history from the beginnings of 'primitive civilizations to our fast moving, industrialized society. Our modern history of today was shaped by incidents of the past.

Special Arts and Physical Education

Concert Choir members join their voices in harmony.

Basketball game begins with the tip-off in girl's Phys. Ed.

Music is a universal language, and music students at MHS proved this by singing songs from various countries.

Three different music courses were available to songsters. Those wishing to major in music sang in the Concert Choir, a select group of singers who earned a full credit.

Many underclassmen girls participated in the Girls' Glee Club and mixed voices were aired in General Chorus.

Both boys and girls exercised their bodies during Freshman and Sophomore Physical Education classes.

Many moans and groans could be heard as Miss Robbins put the girls through their paces and Mr. Fishel, Mr. Ramey and Mr. Johnson led the boys in vigorous activities.

Drivers Education classes gave MHS'ers the much needed driving rules and "art." Every day Mr. Ramey, Mr. Brown, and Mr. Johnson fastened their safety belts as they instructed their students in the proper way to drive.

Under the direction of Mr. Ritterskamp, art students learned the initial art techniques and ended their fourth year with modern and interpretive paintings.

Mr. Patchett's expert direction of the band was displayed during the Winter Concert and the Annual Band Variety Show. At this time band students played many difficult pieces of music with tremendous skill.

Keep MHS'ers on the Go

Band members practice for the Variety Show under Mr. Patchett's direction.

Linda Gray shows the correct way of fastening a seat belt.

Mr. Ritterskamp shows Barbara Hileman how to mold clay.

Specialized Education Classes

Industrial Arts at MHS included Metal Shop, Wood Shop, and Technical Drawing.

The chief purpose of Shop was to train boys in the knowledge and skills of wood and metal working. Before taking Wood Shop, boys were required to have at least one year of Technical Drawing.

Boys who enrolled in Technical Drawing learned the fundamentals of drafting. The idea of this course was to draw more boys into the engineering field.

Metal Shop, becoming more popular among the boys at MHS, was designed to teach the boys how to use machines and to thoroughly know their parts.

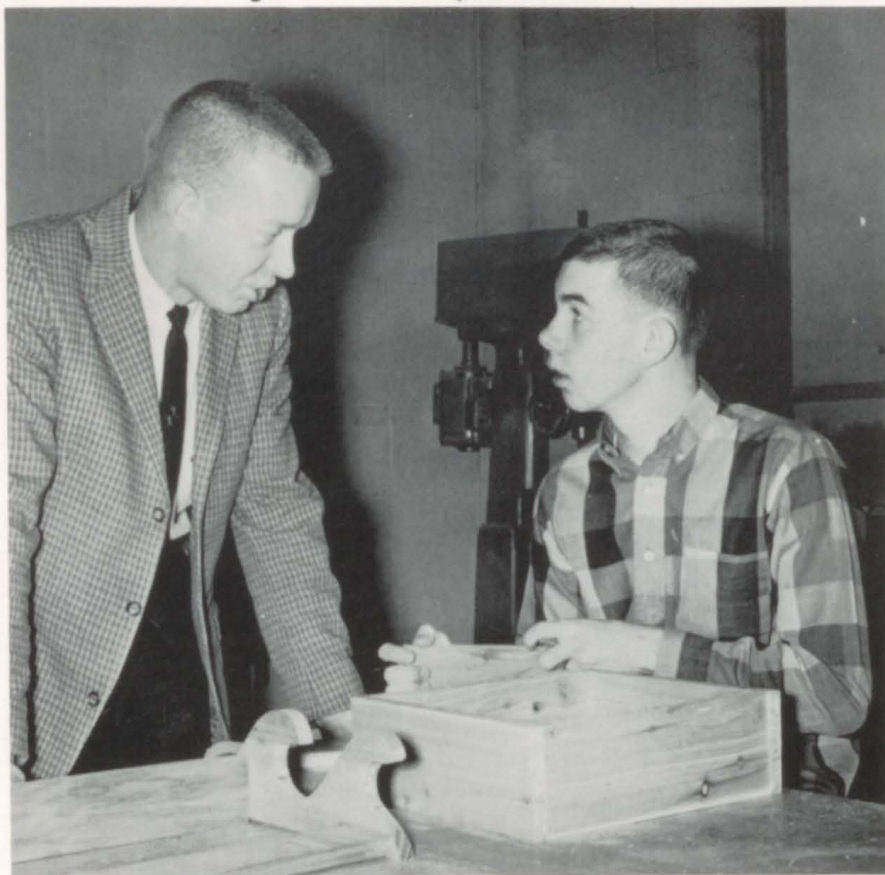

It takes a keen eye and concentration as Barry Nelson works with his machine.

Mr. Andrews shows Jim Byers the right way in Metal Shop class.

Give Boys Useful Practice

Mr. Davis, Wood Shop instructor, is seen here as he explains to Richie Gunnell how to finish his project.

Judging contests were again the main project of the Agriculture classes. The boys were also in charge of the lawn around the building. During the summer, the FFA cultivated a section of the school property which gave them a good background in their future job as farmers of the community.

The fundamentals of corn growing is being explained by these three Agriculture III students.

Tom Denny looks on with Doug Beasley as John Doughty shows his plans in Mechanical Drawing.

Grammar and Prose Add Literary

Mrs. Francis reads aloud to her Freshman Literature class.

Mrs. Doyle collects one of the many themes written throughout the year in Composition.

A thorough and complete study of the English language offered students the chance to adequately express themselves in writing as well as speaking.

Three years of English and Literature combined with electives of Senior Composition or Grammar gave students an opportunity to thoroughly learn about one of the most complicated languages of all—English.

Knowledge to Scholars at MHS

Juniors listen attentively as Mrs. Doyle explains expository writing.

Mrs. Roberts checks Junior Literature assignments.

With the guidance of English and Grammar teachers, students were taught the correct way to write sentences, as well as the proper identification of each part of the sentence. Freshmen were taught the proper construction of clear and concise paragraphs while Seniors ended their year with interpretive and expository writings.

Literature classes read writings from colonial authors as well as modern day novelists such as Hemingway and poets such as Frost.

Girls Prepare for Eventual Role of Homemakers

Girls prepared for their later role as homemakers in the variety of courses available.

Contrary to many beliefs, Home Economics was not just a simple cooking and sewing course. As one advanced in the course, one learned to fix everything from a glass of tea to complete dinners including table settings, manners, nutrients, and cooking procedures.

Sewing was taught to girls starting with simple cotton garments in the first two years and advancing to construction of synthetic and wool ensembles.

Other fields offered in this course included home nursing, home management, consumer economics, marriage, housing, and child development.

A new faculty member, Mrs. Riley, assisted Mrs. Bogard in training the future homemakers.

Another addition, Miss Robinson, served as a student teacher to complete her Home Economics course at Indiana University.

Hovey White and Joyce Mills cut material for their Home Ec. project.

by Cooking, Sewing and Home Nursing

Judy Cable and Jackie Allen demonstrate their scrapbook prepared for Senior Home Economics class.

Home Economics IV joins Mrs. Bogard in studying the different types of fabrics.

Students Prepare for Business Careers

Linda George gets ready to type with steady hands.

The unlimited world of business beckons many students while they are still in high school. To help them prepare for the future, MHS offers nine business courses.

As Freshmen, pupils took General Business to receive a fundamental knowledge of business. Students in Typing I learned the basic skills required for typing letters, manuscripts, and reports. While this class gave them enough accuracy for personal use, Typing II developed speeds suitable for office work.

Shorthand I and II taught future secretaries to take dictation at high speeds and transcribe letters from their notes.

In the two Bookkeeping classes, students learned to keep efficient financial records. For business majors interested in the theory of finance and business, Business Law and Consumer Economics were offered.

This year, as in the past, the best MHS business students participated in the Invitational Commercial Contests.

Mrs. Stacy checks LaVerne Broadstreet's bookkeeping figures.

Language Broadens Knowledge of Foreign Countries

Mrs. Richardson listens to translations from Caesar in Latin II class.

The Language Department consisting of Latin I, II, Cicero, and Spanish I, and II classes provided a good basis for students majoring in language arts.

Latin students learned the vocabulary, conjugation, and declension of the Latin words, and concluded their third and fourth years with advanced translations from the writings of Caesar, Cicero, and Pompey. By studying the Latin language, much was learned about Roman people and culture during Caesar's time.

Mrs. Richardson's dedication as a teacher proved to be an inspiration to her enthusiastic students during her seventh year at MHS.

Spanish students practiced daily the pronunciation of Spanish words and devoted many classrooms hours to conjugation of verbs as well as translation from the book. A Spanish banquet also helped to supplement the classroom lessons.

The courses in Spanish broadened students' knowledge of the peoples in Latin American countries.

Spanish II students write as Miss Grounds dictates.

Our Pillars of Education With Organizations

Many varied activities were enjoyed by the more than 460 students who were members of the 19 clubs and organizations in MHS. There were weekly and monthly meetings in which the clubs elected officers, selected activities, planned programs, and enjoyed friendship.

Some of the clubs had parties, a few had picnics, but all gained fun and knowledge by participating in the ORGANIZATIONS AT MHS.

Honor Society Sets Example for Students

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY—FRONT ROW: Mrs. Richardson, Sponsor, Margie Hribar, Sarah Gibbs, Carol Gray, Sharon Frederick, Cheryl Beasley, Ernestine Calton, Pat Spaulding, Beverly Johnson, Peggy Truax, Mrs. Taylor, Sponsor. ROW 2: Jeff Fenimore, Marc Keltner, John Wood, Rick VanBokkelen, Sherry Morley, Margaret Mason, Georgia Gregory, Shirley Carter, Dennis Moore, Claude Willis, and Mr. Farr, Principal.

Excitement mounts and tension builds whenever an Honor Society Initiation is coming. Those who have high service, character, leadership, and scholarship abilities are considered by the faculty for membership in the Mooresville chapter of the National Honor Society.

The high point of the year is the Honor Society picnic, sponsored for those students who have been on the honor roll each six weeks period during the year.

Evening meetings are held once a month, and day meetings are held every two weeks. The Honor Society also collects a cheer basket at Christmas time for a needy family in the community.

Council Promotes Student-Teacher Relations

STUDENT COUNCIL—SEATED: Mrs. Rogers, Sponsor, Susie Hodges, Karen Doty, Linda Locke, Linda Morley, Connie Stevens, Beverly Johnson, and Mr. Farr, Principal. STANDING: Claude Willis, Jeff Fenimore, Mike Warriner, Mike Priller, Richie Gunnell, and Roy Sachs.

The Student Council is discussing one of the many problems it worked on during the year.

As the nation, state, and city need a government, so does MHS.

This is the job of the Student Council. The members of the council are elected by their respective classes. They have the responsibility of expressing the students' view.

The council holds weekly meetings and the student body elects a president for the council every spring.

During the year the council sponsored many projects. Among these are: a crest contest, to obtain a crest that will be used on all future class rings, cheer baskets, homecoming, honors day, cheerleader elections, and a picnic.

FHA, FFA Promotes Basic Skills

The Future Homemakers of America completed another successful year with every girl working very hard to contribute to the club. Among their accomplishments were two chili suppers, cheer baskets at Christmas for the needy, and their annual spring dance. These girls have a right to be proud of their organization.

The Future Farmers of America and their sponsor, Mr. Stewart, have played a large part in the landscaping of our school campus. The boys in the swine judging team won first place in the Purebred Duroc Sale and Show at Rushville, Indiana. The evidence of these boys' work can be found throughout the school.

FFA—FRONT ROW: Mr. Stewart, Sponsor, J. Mowery, V. West, J. Sachs, B. Lugar, J. Fields, C. West, M. Stewart. ROW 2: D. Sachs, W. Mundy, R. Collett, J. Wilkins, E. Estelle, E. Pugh, J. Zielska. One of the most active and enthusiastic clubs in school this year was the Girl's Athletic Association. Their many activities included swimming at the Westwood Country Club, bowling, tennis, archery, golf, softball, volleyball, and basketball games with G.A.A. clubs from other schools.

Another energetic club was the Lettermen's Club. Their main pastimes were devoted to selling ice-cream, ushering at ballgames, and taking tickets. The proceeds from their money-making projects went for athletic equipment and their annual spring picnic.

LETTERMEN'S CLUB—FRONT ROW: M. Warriner, B. Scaggs, M. Thompson, D. Allen, J. Gwinn, L. King, L. Gajderoricz, J. Stanley, R. Hagarty. ROW 2: J. Coleman, D. Norton, R. Harris, G. Selke, B. # Staff Guides Wagon Along '64 Trail

Section Editors, Margie Hribar, John Wood, Martha Hayes, Mike Hankins, Vicki Fields, Jeff Fenimore, Dennie Niemeier, Judy Cable, Peggy Truax, and Bev Johnson layout sections for their third big deadline.

The yearbook staff spent many hours of toil, and labor on the 1964 WAGON TRAILS. There were the discomforts of having to work late at night, cropping, typing, and drawing layouts, and also the worry of trying to get everything just right.

Needless, to say, everyone will look forward to August when the big day arrives, and those yearbooks are given out.

Assistant Editors, Linda Smith, Barbara Cable, Cheryl Beasley, Sandy Cunningham, Bill Lawrence, and Patti Park worked with the editors on their different sections, getting training for their next year's editor's job.

Most of the finances for the '64 WAGON TRAILS came from the efforts of the Ad Staff.

Charlies' Helpers Work Hard to Publish Papers

Editors, Margie Hribar, Pam Pence, Tom Mincy, Margaret Mason, Beverly Johnson, Peggy Truax, Laraine Dolen, and Pat Spaulding work hard assigning stories and making sure they are pasted up in time to meet the deadline.

The CAMPUS CRIER was published bi-weekly which meant much work for the staff. The stories were assigned, written, dummied, finaled, and pasted before being sent to the printer.

Each page had its own editor which lessened the load considerably on the Editor-in-Chief, Peggy Truax.

The assistant editors help to publish the paper. Next year it will be their responsibility.

The typists make sure all the stories are written and words spelled correctly before they final anything.

Seniors Present "Moonlight and Applesauce"

The cast of the Senior Play is: Granny, Sandy Swinney; Lillie, Judy Beasley; Archie, Dan Ireland; Officer, Marc Keltner; Oswald, John Wood; Kay, Susan Swinehart; Nita, Cheryl Andrews; Frank, Rick VanBokkelen; Ham, Steve Tackitt; Gertie, Bev Johnson; Ellen, Vicki Fields; Eli, Jeff Fenimore, and Reporter, Pam Sundling.

The senior play this year was a comedy entitled "Moonlight and Applesauce." It was presented Friday afternoon and Saturday night, April 24 and 25.

Oswald Drew, portrayed by John Wood, was having 'love trouble' and was trying to straighten things out, but was receiving 'help' from Granny. 'Master Detective' Ham Barnes was chasing crooks, and 'Genius Inventor' Eli Barnes, Ham's father, was busy making inventions to earn him a 'million' all the while. Archie the Sapper and Lillie the Lynx were trying to steal one of Eli's inventions which contained some stolen diamonds. Ellen, Eli's wife, was in the process all the time of making a fortune in the stock market.

If it sounds confusing, that's because it was. There was more mischief and mystery than ever before on stage, and more hilarious situations arose than were ever written.

The play was directed by Mrs. Betty Roberts and Mr. Harold Carter.

Frank is catching Oswald as Eli and Nita look on stunned.

Juniors Present "Lock, Stock and Lipstick"

The 1965 Junior play was very successful. The play, " Lock, Stock and Lipstick" was given for students during the day and for the parents at night. Proceeds from the play were used to help finance the Prom, which is sponsored by the Junior Class. Pictured above are Sharon Montgomery, Tom Duncan, Linda Miller, Barbara Cable, and Bill Warren from one of the scenes of the play.

The Concert Choir performed for many important events throughout the year. Among these were the Christmas Program and Spring Concert. To obtain membership to the Concert Choir, students have to audition with the director, Mr. Snell.

The Madrigals continued their career as a singing group with performing for many civic organizations in the community. This group is also chosen by auditioning with the director.

and the Spirit of Music to MHS

The band this year was very active in almost all school events.

During football season, they marched at the games, performing various halftime shows. They also led the Homecoming Parade.

The band participated in two competitive parades, placing high in both.

The pep band, composed of 21 bandmen, provided additional backing to the cheerblock during pep sessions and ballgames.

The band gave a winter concert, along with the junior high band, during a meeting of the P.T.O.

A candy drive was undertaken by the band in the late winter to gain funds for their annual Variety Show.

The Variety Show was given in April, involving the band, the dance band, the majorettes and Kadettes, as well as lighting helpers outside the band.

Without the aid of the seniors, the band played for Commencement, thus ending a busy and happy year of making music for MHS.

Our Pillars of Education With Sports

There were a few complaints and several tired and bruised boys, but at the end of the sports season, all the MHS athletes were very proud of their team, no matter the record. With 6 sports to participate in, there were several boys in training at different times during the year to keep themselves fit to represent their school on the floor, track, or field. Many new experiences and memorable events were a part of each athlete's life while participating in the SPORTS AT MHS.

Injuries Plague Season

Gerald "Chopper" Burke heads in to administer the finishing touches to a faltering Decatur Central Hawk.

Bone jarring tackles and spirited leadership was typical of Steve Tackitt during the past gridiron season. His teammates chose him as their most valuable both on and off the football field.

A Northwest Space Pioneer wrestles end Carl Archer to the ground after completing a 15 yard aerial gain from Van Bokkelen.

With the return of fourteen lettermen, the 1963 football season should have been a huge success. But, due to the many injuries that plagued the team, the season proved to be rather disappointing. Even with these many handicaps, the team showed a fighting spirit throughout the season. All in all, the season showed many fine points and the players and coaches deserve a lot of credit.

Senior, Leroy Selke, turns the corner and begins to make his way for a good gain as Mike Knapp and Rick Van Bokkelen miss the block.

An M.H.S. halfback attempts a center line plunge as the opponents jam the middle.

Not enough at the right time was indicative of this play in the Decatur Central game when scatback Bill Knapp failed in his effort to elude a Hawk defender.

Ralph Alsup and Guy Selke watch the aftermath of a power plunge through the middle of the line in the Hawk-Pioneer contest.

Halfback Lerow Selke keeps his balance as he eludes tacklers on one of his famous end sweeps.

Pioneers Post Winning Season for '63-'64

The 1963-64 varsity basketball season under new head coach Larry Ramey, had a regular season record of eleven and nine. They also won the Morgan County Tourney held at Eminence, and received a beautiful trophy for their efforts.

This year's team had only four seniors. With the players moving up from the undefeated junior varsity team, next year's five should be a great one.

The team ended the conference fifth with a two and five record losing more than its share of close ones.

With a winning season having been posted by the last two Mooresville squads, a definite trend seems to have been established.

Rich Gunnell seems to be temporarily tied-up during the game with Edinburg.

"Destination—Foul Line" could be the title of this picture as Rick Van Bokkelen is hacked in the Hawk contest.

Frosh Learn Fundamentals of Game

JR. VARSITY—The Jr. varsity compiled the best season record in M.H.S. history with an undefeated season. The squad won 18 games and lost 0 under the fine coaching of new coach Norb Johnson. This season showed many of good points as the team won the easy ones and came from behind at times to win the close one. The individual scoring was evenly balanced as many of the boys would play only half the game and dress for the varsity.

FRESHMEN—This year's freshman team began to learn the basic fundamentals of high school basketball as they played their first season. They had a fine season winning seven and losing three.

Grapplers Have Good Season

Three year letterman Tom Denny was the unanimous choice for most valuable wrestler as he copped the 138 pound Mid-State championship held at Decatur Central.

The Mooresville Wrestling team had a successful season in winning 8 meets, losing 4, and tying one with Speedway.

Wrestling requires self-determination, discipline, and sportsmanship.

With only three returning lettermen from last year's squad, coaches Fox and Fishel molded together enough material to salvage a winning slate.

Tom Denny, Don Allen, Dave Riggan, and Jerry Stanley were top point getters.

Strong Pitching and Fielding

The nucleus of the '64 baseball team was composed of the three returning lettermen. Richie Gunnell, a junior, specialized at shortstop and was used for limited pitching. Rick VanBokkelen did most of the pitching as he worked for 42 innings in his senior year. Bill Lawrence, also a junior, made spectacular catches in the center field slot.

John Wood, senior, was selected most valuable for 1964 and was the leading point scorer. This was his third year to letter in track.

for Freshman Cindermen

This year's track team had only two returning lettermen and was composed of mostly freshmen. The varsity won only one meet out of eight, but had many fine individual performances. The team also competed in the Mid-State Meet and the Charlton Invitational Meet.

The freshman team did an outstanding job this year as they won the eight team Mid-State Freshman Meet. The team also won most of the separate meets. With these boys coming back next year, the track squad should be loaded with talent.

Freshman Rich Sexton crosses the finish line to win the 220 yard dash.

Our Pillars of Education With Friends

As the freshmen entered the school doors in September, many of them were wondering what the next year had in store for them. Would the seniors be too rough on them? Would they be able to keep up with the studies? Who would they meet and go through the year with? This last question was answered as they saw the whole incoming student body assembled in the gym for the opening convocation. They saw almost 750 kids like themselves, looking forward to another year of learning. Many of those uncertain, questioning people found a quality of kindness and friendship in one particular fellow student, while some enjoyed merely just being with anyone. Whether it was studies, sports, or just goofing off, each student had fun with his FRIENDS AT MHS.

School Superintendent, Mr. Harold Bell, is busy solving all the school problems in order to keep the school system running smoothly.

Assistant School Superintendent, Mr. Ned Smith, assists Mr. Bell. He also is in charge of buying the school supplies.

Administration Works Hard for School

Mrs. Burlingame and Mrs. Bradford are the secretaries of the Superintendent and Assistant Superintendent.

School Board members, Mr. George Fields, Mr. Howard Crews, Mr. Sumnar Sellars, Mr. Lawrence Garrison, and Mrs. Jane Sundling set the policies for the school and hire efficient teachers. Mr. Phil Kappes, school attorney, handles all legal matters for the school.

Our principal, Mr. Jack Farr, sees to it that the school runs efficiently, and he tries to help students solve both their scholastic and personal problems.

Mrs. Cross serves as the Extracurricular Treasurer.

Mrs. Wood, who is the Inventory Clerk of the High School, supervises the sale of school books.

Mrs. Call, who is the high school secretary, has many duties. Among those are assisting Mr. Farr, and the students.

Discussing schedules and problems of the students are Guidance Director, Mr. East; Dean of Boys, Mr. Steckel; and Dean of Girls, Mrs. Rogers.

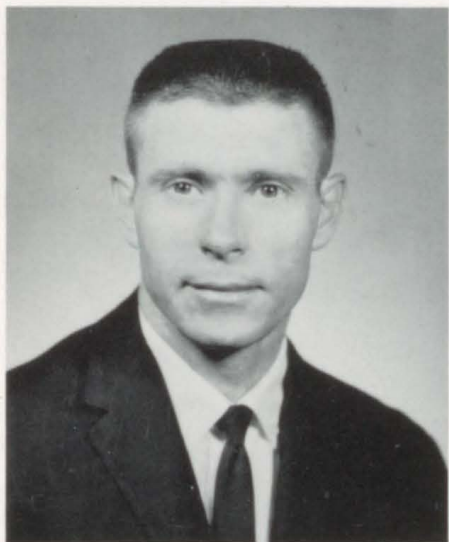

Mr. Bell, as head of the school system, works year round to see to it that the entire school year is a successful one. He is assisted by the Assistant Superintendent and the secretaries.

The School Board also plays a big part in supervising and solving the system's problems.

Mr. Farr, as chief administrator of the high school, carries out the rules of the school system, with the assistance from the secretaries, the Dean of Boys, the Dean of Girls, and the Guidance Director.

Our Pillars of Education With Merchants

The students of MHS have been afforded many memorable experiences through personal contact with the businessmen of Mooresville.

The purchase of such things as the corsage for the big school dance, tools to work on a car, and those important curlers for a bouffant hair-do, has brought into the school
